Community-Wide Effort Makes PHS Choir European Trip a Reality

Absolute pitch in fund-raising is a rare gift, but the 81 young singers of the Princeton High School Choir have it—right down to the last quarter-tone.

The Choir has not only achieved its $60,000 European trip goal, it has topped it and the singers now count about $64,000 in their treasury. They will travel this summer to the Festival of Three Cities (Vienna, Prague, Budapest) to join their voices with those of other young choirs from countries around the world.

"Our idea, always, was to achieve our goal not by begging, but by offering something to the people of the Princeton community," explains J. Alfred Seitz, chairman of the Choir Fund Steering Committee.

The first boost came from parents of choir members who pledged and contributed $32,800. Contributions are anonymous: nobody knows which parents gave how much.

Then students themselves began washing cars, sitting with babies and working in yards. After all the hours were tallied this work had added $4,584.47 to the fund. Not long ago, odd-job fund-raising had to stop: it was taking too much study and rehearsal time. But individual students are still working for spending money.

"Projects" brought in $18,000 and the roll-call of them encompasses a wide, imaginative variety of fund-raising enterprises.

"Now, let's see," and Mr. Seitz runs his finger down the list, "we had several concerts: the United Voices, the Choir's own Madrigal Singers, individual concerts by soloists like Nadia Koutzen and Shirley Bachelor and of course, our big Choir concert in May in Alexander Hall."

For that big concert, students sold advertising in a program for a net of $1,600. The University donated Alexander Hall.

A wine-tasting and an art sale netted $2,000—there was the cost of the wine, of course, but still a profit.

The Lions Club offered to run a raffle. LaVake Jewelers donated two clocks as prizes, and the total profit was $4,960.

Parent help, in addition to direct parent contribution, was a vital factor. A rummage sale, planned and run by parents, brought in $2,050. A dance for adults—parents and friends—made $850, and a dance for the kids made $475.

"Some kids decided to raise money by having a spaghetti dinner," Mr. Seitz reports, "they ran out of spaghetti, but at a dollar a plate, they made $160 for us."

"We showed the movie, 'Chitty-Chitty-Bang-Bang' for little kids, and that brought us $700. Then, there was 'War and Peace.' That came about because an English teacher had seen the movie and thought all the kids ought to see it, too. What about a benefit? We weren't sure, because it would cost money for the Playhouse to get the film. Well, we charged $2 a ticket, and we kept a dollar and the Playhouse kept a dollar, and we made $800 and I don't think the Playhouse had to take any loss."

Individuals drew from their own talents and ideas to contribute money. Melvin Jones, of the high school's graphic arts faculty, told Mr. Seitz his students were making a comic book for practice. Why not sell it? he suggested.

"Made $40," Mr. Seitz says.

A square dance, planned by Betty Hewell, physical education teacher, turned in $190.

"We didn't even know about some events until the check came," Mr. Seitz says, with some amazement. "Mrs. Gladys Taylor, a resident of the community, held a take-out dinner and raised $215 for us. We had no idea she had even planned it."

Young musicians at the Middle School, perhaps with an eye to future choir trips of their own, raised $200 through a concert.

One of the first contributions came from the First National Bank, which gave $1,000 in return for a program of Christmas Carols sung by the Choir in the bank's Nassau Street lobby during the holiday season.

Options for New Princeton High School Range from One to $8 Million

Four possible answers to the question "What shall we do about the high school building?" were laid before the community at a school board meeting Tuesday night.

Options: a new school ($8 million); a remodeled building ($4.8 million); a "fallback" choice with present outbuildings retained and a thinner educational program than at present ($3.7 million) and a rock-bottom minimum patch job ($1 million). None of these costs include furniture or equipment.

The $33,000 report, prepared by consultants Taylor, Lieberfield and Heldman, Inc. of New York, was presented, perhaps symbolically, in the ancient, scruffy, tattered high school auditorium.

"We should have begun with a tour of the building," commented board president Hannah Fox.

The consultants' base is a 1982 population of 1,000 students. Comparison figures for a population of 1,300 are also given. These are the school board's own projections and Mrs. Fox told the audience — about two dozen attended — that the board "is fairly comfortable with these enrollment projections."

Present high school enrollment is 1,677. West Windsor students are due to phase out when their new high school is completed. There are 524 West Windsor enrollees.

Ventilation? Bad. The present building has two parts, one built in 1929, the other in 1955. Consultants found that the 1955 section has a ventilating system which is "hazardous" and "specifically contrary" to the National Fire Protection Association building code, and the rules of New Jersey's Bureau of School Planning.

It's designed to let classroom air flow through vents into the hallways, which means that a small classroom fire could generate smoke in the corridor — the means of exit. Smoke is a "serious danger" in a building of this kind, the report warns.

The 1927 building had adequate heating and plumbing, but again, poor ventilation and a very frail electrical wiring system.

The Valley Road building is, quite literally, cracking up. Cracks occur where major corridor walls intersect, and in stair towers, but the report assures there is "no imminent danger to occupants."

In a broad comment on the high school, the report observes that "the catalogue of inadequacies could be extended much further," but it suggests that the "advantages of new construction are not sufficiently critical" to dominate the process of making a choice.

Program Planning. Taking approximately six months, the consultants not only examined every zone of the building, but met eight times with principal, superintendent and board members, and interviewed every academic chairman, and administrative unit head.

They propose a school, whether new or remodeled, which would be built around a central Media Center, perhaps the present court-yard, filled in. The library today is almost Standing-Room-Only: it works out to three square feet per student, or about 5,000 square feet.

It would be expanded to 8,445 square feet, and would include 80 reading "stations," a film library, audio-visual production areas, space for small-group viewing and listening and possibilities for wide use of electronic media.

Major groups would be clustered around the Media Center — math-science, humanities, fine arts, so arranged that each could share with the other. Math and science would share computer terminal areas, for example. All departments could use the 25-station language lab; English and social studies would share a reading room-interest center.

Decentralization of some departments is also a possibility. For example, Industrial Education's electronics shop would be near the physics labs and the drafting room near the art department.

Theatre Auditoriums. There would be small, seminar-size classrooms for about 15 students, larger ones for 25-35 students, and a 100-seat lecture theatre, convenient to the street for community use.

A new auditorium large enough to hold the whole school would be "wasteful," but there would be a 300-500 seat auditorium and experimental theatre in the fine arts section.

The present "deficient" physical education quarters would provide special areas for wrestling, corrective work, or gymnastics, and one recommendation calls for two gyms, each large enough for two simultaneous classes.

Administrative, guidance and special services quarters would be close together for work and conference.

Board members told the audience that none of the plans is luxurious: no swimming pool, no planetarium, no fancy student lounge. But the cafeteria would become a more versatile social center, and space would be provided for quiet games, or noisy ping-pong.

All plans except the bare-bones one call for carpeting throughout (board member Winthrop Pike says the experience at John Witherspoon School has proved the sturdiness, economy and quiet of carpeting), fluorescent lighting, and "amenities."

A student body reduced to 1,000 doesn't mean a simple proportionate cut-back, the consultants found. West Windsor students' interests aren't necessarily those of Princeton students; in fact, Business Education, Industrial Education and Home Economics are "dominated," by West Windsor, the report says.

Some Courses to Go. As a result, the consultants propose dropping five Ind. Ed. courses and 11 Bus. Ed. courses (but adding a computer course.) In another area, the consultants feel that a 1,000-student school cannot support six languages and recommend a cut to four.

Board member George Fitzgerald said he felt that teachers regard these reductions as "an evil necessity" and have been aware that some kind of cuts would have to be made.

Now that the introductory public presentation has been made, the school board hopes for public suggestion and opinion. During the summer, board members will mull over the options and discuss the community's suggestions.

The next public meeting will be held in early fall. An architect may be chosen by December 1 after the board has decided which of the four paths to take.

Referendum in May? Preliminary plans may be ready by next March. Then the state must review and approve, perhaps in time for a public bond issue referendum in May, 1974.

The referendum will probably be "yes" or "no" on a single choice — not a vote on options. If the decision is for a new school, it could be ready by September, 1976. Remodeling takes longer, and depending on the plan, completion could be November, 1976 or June 1, 1977.

The board has an open mind on which course to take. Mrs. Fox emphasized. A new school, presumably to be built on Cherry Hill Road land already cur marked for a school on the Master Plan map, would provide a better work flow.

But the board likes the central location of the present building, Mrs. Fox said, even though it has only 23 acres, to the 61 acres at the Cherry Hill site.

PHS Choir Fund

After singers had presented a program to other musicians at Westminster Choir College, they received $50. A program at Rossmoor, the retirement village, brought a donation of $200, collected from enthusiastic members of the audience.

Over $6,400 in Cash. Actual cash donations from people in the community who wanted to support the trip amount to $6,425.

"Yes, we have more than we need," Mr. Seitz concedes, "but we need a contingency fund for a trip like this, and the devaluation of the dollar may cause additional expense."

The director of the Princeton High School Choir is William Trego. The accompanist is Nancianne Parella.

Last month, Dr. Lara Haggard, the choir director of the Festival of Three Cities, visited Princeton and told parents that one of the Choir's sopranos, Lauren Sarno, has been chosen for the individual competition category, and will compete for a music scholarship while the Choir is in Vienna.

ALUMNI TO RETURN

For Annual Reunion Ritual. Beginning Thursday, thousands of Princeton University alumni and their families will return to the campus for Reunions, the annual long weekend of serious forums and colorful festivities, preceding the University's 226th commencement on Tuesday.

Highlight of Reunions is the alumni P-Rade on Saturday, beginning at 1:30 on the front campus.

Leading the procession will be alumni from the University's 25th year class—1948 in this case—followed by the Old Guard, the oldest living alumni. They will form in front of Nassau Hall, followed by progressively younger alumni.

The parade will wind behind Nassau Hall, in front of Clio and Whig halls, across McCosh Walk and through the arch of 1879 Hall, across Washington Road and down Prospect Avenue, right on Roper Lane, right again between Peyton Hall and Palmer Stadium, and end on the Ivy Lane Green, just east of Washington Road.

The reviewing stand will be located there, and as each class aproaches the stand it will pause for a Princeton "locomotive" cheer in honor of the university president, Dr. William G. Bowen.

Lacrosse and Rugby. When all classes have assembled there, the Alumni Association will convene its annual Reunions meeting.

The once traditional Reunions baseball game between Princeton and Yale is no more, but this year Reunion participants will have two athletic contests to consider: an alumni-undergraduate rugby match at Gulick Field following the Ivy Lane meeting; or the North-South Intercollegiate All-Star Lacrosse game, at 3:30 in Palmer Stadium.

The Princeton campus at Reunion-time becomes a series of walled-off courtyards and brightly-colored tents, each to accommodate one or more class parties.

Overall, the effect is somelike a circus, in fact, was a charge made by younger alumni several years ago. As a result, the Reunion program now includes a series of alumni-faculty forums Thursday, Friday and Saturday (see page 16) designed to balance the night-time revelry.

The Baccalaureate service will be held Sunday at 1 a.m. in the University Chapel, followed by the President's annual garden party in Prospect, for seniors and their parents, and other friends of Princeton.

Class Day exercises will be held Monday at 11 a.m. at Cannon Green behind Nassau Hall. The Senior Prom is scheduled that night, in the plaza in front of the Woodrow Wilson School.

Concise Commencement. Tuesday at 10:40 a.m. the academic procession begins filing into Nassau Green, or Jadwin Gymnasium in case of rain, for the university's 226th commencement exercises.

Princeton's commencement, in accordance with traditions stretching back to the mid-18th century, features no addresses other than the Valedictory and Latin Salutatory and then informal remarks to the seniors by the President of the University, Dr. William G. Bowen, who next month will be concluding his first year as Princeton's 17th President.

The only suspense in the ceremony will come in the awarding of honorary degrees. Princeton customarily only awards degrees to those who actually show up in person to receive them. Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, himself a Princeton alumnus, has reportedly been offered an honorary degree this year.

Whether or not he appears, and whether or not a small group of seniors make good on their promise to walk out of the ceremonies if he does appear in protest of Nixon administration policies, remain to be seen.

Survey Favoring Consolidation of Princeton Prompts Immediate Action on Detailed Study

A formal Borough-Township consolidation study will be inaugurated this year and a Citizens Committee to direct it will be appointed within a month.

The announcement, from both mayors, came after a detailed consolidation survey made by Rutgers graduate students was presented Monday night before Township Committee, with Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley and Borough Councilman Thomas Cawley, as guests.

The formal municipal study would have come in any case, Mayor Cawley told his press conference Tuesday. The new group will be able to start from the students' data, the mayor pointed out, and the students' public opinion survey in particular is "extremely valuable," he said.

The survey shows what Mayor Cawley called "modest" support for consolidation on the part of Borough residents: 54 percent. Detailed figures show breakdowns by section district, age, ethnic groups and so on.

3 Out of 4 in Township. However, in the Township where consolidation has more backing—75 percent— Mayor Jay Bleiman on Monday night warned that "a definitive case for consolidation hasn't yet been made, and we must make it," and Committee member Barbara Smoyer, whose husband, Stanley, was on the citizens' group that made a similar study a decade ago, added, "This is an emotional issue for many people, and much as I would like to see it come to pass, we must keep that emotional feeling in mind."

Mayor Bleiman did, however, introduce the students' presentation by referring to "this historic moment when the long, final march toward consolidation may be beginning."

The Rutgers students who made the study are candidates for the degree of Master of City and Regional Planning and are members of Professor Thomas Hartmann's Graduate Planning Studio. Mr. Hartmann was formerly a Township Committeeman.

Their finding: "There are no major impediments to consolidation." But in their Monday presentation, they explained that they had not investigated several aspects of consolidation chiefly because they had neither time nor personnel: the disparity in the Borough-Township tax rates, the role of uniformed employees (police, firemen) machinery for consolidating debts, zoning, sewer questions or how to meld present agencies into a consolidation set-up.

Rejected in 1965. Mayor Cawley, on Tuesday, suggested that the new citizens survey will probably explore not only these, but other facets of the problem not examined in the 1960's. The Dilley report on consolidation, named for its chairman, Robert V. Dilley, was published in 1965. It rejected consolidation because of the tax difference in the two communities.

The form of government is a big factor, Mayor Cawley said. The students propose a strong-mayor form. It suggested also that a ward system of electing officials and the abolition of citizen boards, like the Recreation Commission, might be explored.

What precise form the new citizens group will take, has yet to be determined, the mayor said. Perhaps a Charter Commission will be required under state law.

One clear line emerged in the students' survey: it's hard hard to get people interested unless a crisis is at hand. For many, it is not clear how consolidation will help solve municipal problems, and at the moment people do not see a crisis. At the same time, the servey found no hidden opposition to the idea of consolidation.

Most people who oppose it, especially in the Borough, are fearful of its impact on taxes.

Crises may not exist, but Borough and Township citizens alike, see problems. In the Borough, traffic; in the Township, lack of public transportation.

Parking Inadequate. Asked to rate Borough services, 47 per cent said traffic and parking services were "poor." Library, fire and police were at the top.

Asked to rate Township services, 50 per cent said transportation was "poor," and again, library, fire and police were at the top.

Willingness to pay higher taxes for better services? In the Township, 60 percent were willing, in the Borough, 44 percent.

In both towns, schools (especially high school tensions) and housing tied, with 17 percent, as the most-frequently mentioned problem. Transportation was next, with 14 percent.

Highlights of the survey:

- Opponents to consolidation in the Borough believe the Borough will lose financially; the communities are not compatible and "things are fine, so why change? " Twenty-eight percent, in each category.
- Proponents, in both towns, cite "promoting efficiency" as the top reason for wanting consolidation (38 percent Borough; 42 Township). In order, other reasons: eliminate fragmentation; improve services, promote community cooperation.

- Borough opponents strongly believe (76 percent) taxes will go up under consolidation. In the Township, 50 percent of those opposed, see a tax increase.
- Party affiliation makes little difference, although 85 percent of the Township's Democrats are in favor.
- In the Borough 41 percent of the 36-45 age group says "no" and 36 percent of the 56-65 age group, compared to 25 percent in the sample as a whole. (In the Borough, 20 percent overall, replied "don't know").
- By Borough election district, Number Eight was strongest in favor, 75 percent. The strongest opposition, 50 percent was in District 9. This includes Sergeant, Pelham and Markham Road.
- In the Township, District Ten was 100 percent in favor

This district is the Dodds Lane, Autumn Hill Road section. The most opposition 28 percent—was in District 11, comprising Battle Road, Einstein Drive and Mercer Road.

• The highest "no" in the Township also had the highest "don't know" with the same percentage: 28

• Many "don't know" answers were tallied; for example, 40 percent in the Borough's District 7 and the Township's District One.

PRINCETON BUCKS TIDE

Of Statewide Primary Results. Princeton once again proved to be a poor harbinger of New Jersey election results in primary voting Tuesday, both Borough and the Township registered solid majorities for incumbent Republican Governor William T. Cahill and Democrat Ann Klein, both eventual statewide losers.

The Borough gave Gov. Cahill a 370 141 edge over challenger Charles W. Sandman Jr., and Mrs. Klein a 663 320 margin over Democratic organization candidate Brendan T. Byrne. In the Township, Cahill defeated Sandman, 726 247, and Mrs. Klein clobbered Byrne, 1,324 400.

But, as one heard over and over while votes were tallied at polling districts here, both the Township and the Borough favored George McGovern in last year's Presidential election. And when the statewide results were in, Cahill and Mrs. Klein could claim little more success in New Jersey than the Democrat from South Dakota did last November.

Voting in both Borough and Township was light; not unusual for an off-year primary election. In the Borough 1,611, or 27.4 percent, of the 5,885 registered voters went to the polls. In the Township 2,750 out of 8,283 registered cast ballots, a percentage of 33.2.

Few contested offices marked the primary ballots. In the race for the Republican nomination for sheriff, Frank E. Hutchinson Jr. outpolled law and order candidate Horace A Reading Jr., 717 144 in the Township, and 398 69 in the Borough.

Democratic Freeholders Close. The regular Republican candidates for freeholders were shoo-ins over challenger Philip L. Kaplan, whose identification line on the ballot read, "Acupuncture in Mercer County."

The Democratic race for the three freeholders was somewhat closer, as Rosemary J Belmont, the only woman in the field, finished a not-so-distant fourth in both the Borough and the Township.

Township Mayor Junius J Bleiman, running unopposed for the Democratic nomination for Township committeeman, was the Township's largest vote-puller save one: Democrat Anne C. Martindell, running unopposed for the Democratic State Senate nomination. Mrs. Martindell totaled 1,378; Bleiman 1,352.

Mrs. Martindell also ran up the largest vote total in the Borough primary, with 834 Joseph P Moore and Martin P. Lombardo, both unopposed in the Democratic primary for Council membership, finished second and third, with 776 and 763 respectively.

Republican candidates, Margaret R. Penick and Robert E. Pols, running unopposed for Council, polled 463 and 456 votes respectively.

Worst Bet. Democratic gubernatorial finishers behind Mrs. Klein and Byrne were Francis A. Forst, with 30 votes in the Township and 39 in the Borough; Ralph C. DeRose, 14 in the Township and 17 in the Borough; and Vito Albanese, 6 and 4.

The worst bet of the evening at the Princeton polls, but not by much, turned out

Palmer Square to Re-Open This Week

Palmer Square will be reopened to cars this week, probably Thursday, but traffic won't flow the way it did before.

As a driver you will be able to enter the Square from Nassau provided you are driving west. When you reach Palmer Square South, by the post office, you will be allowed to go right ONLY — no more looping around the Square. Mailboxes won't be there.

Emerging from the Square into Nassau, you will be allowed a right turn ONLY — west, toward University Place. If the state approves, there will also be a regulation prohibiting all left turns from Nassau into the Square.

The Palmer Square Island will be opened at its northern and southern ends for people and events, Mayor Robert W. Crawley said this week. He and Council members would like to attract events to the island: Street Theatre, possibly singing groups, and so on. Anyone interested is invited to call Borough Hall with details.

"We decided to open the Square again because there just wasn't any way to make that black asphalt temporarily attractive," the mayor said. "The closing did not create any horrendous traffic problems, and traffic isn't the reason for opening it again."

In fact, the Borough is "still enthusiastic" about closing the Square permanently, perhaps making a multi-level, terraced landscape design linked to the green in front of the post office.

The closing had been scheduled to last five months. This week's re-opening comes slightly over one month after the Square was symbolically closed off by an "uncutting" on Art People Day, May 5.

Best Wishes!

Welcome back,
Grads old and new —
We hope the sun
Soaks up the dew.

Princeton alumni are heading back to the most familiar sort of weather: heat, humidity and probable thunderstorms.

All that sub-normal temperature and rain April and May produced have been swept aside by early June heat. Temperatures are scheduled to reach the high 80s (at least) for the next several days, although the humidity should begin to drop by Friday.

to be Michael A. Maglio, the 29 - year - old machinist from Belleville who ran for the Republican nomination for governor without benefit of press releases, television appearances, or even phone conversations with reporters — his number is unlisted.

Maglio received one vote in the Borough, last in total vote behind Albanese. Township voters cast seven ballots for Maglio, the "mystery candidate," and just six for Albanese.

REGULARS WIN

At County Level. Organizational backing provided all the support candidates in column one needed on Tuesday in county-wide balloting. Victors in the four-way Republican race for Freeholder were John O. Davies, 3d (who is associated with the Gallup Poll); Thomas W. O'Neil, 36 Harrison Street; and Roland E. Livingston. They topped Philip L. Kaplan by better than 10 to 1.

Winning Democrats were Gilbert W. Lugossy, Paul J. Sollami and Albert E. Driver, Jr. They outpolled Rosemary J. Belmont, Robert E. Wagner and John H. Keefe by margins upwards of 3 to 1.

In the G.O.P. race for sheriff, Frank E. Hutchinson, Jr. ran ahead of Horace Reading, 6,474 to 2,549. There were no other contests on the ballot.

PURSE SNATCHER FLEES

As Chase Falls. A purse snatcher managed to escape last week despite the chase of two citizens who came to the aid of the victim.

Borough police report that Mrs. R. C. Belleville, an elderly resident of Trenton, had her purse grabbed around 7 Thursday evening while she was walking on Hulfish Street near Palmer Square. She was not injured.

Herbert Fishman of 16 Sycamore Road answered her call for aid. He chased the purse snatcher across the PMI lot, police said, up Avalon Place to Bayard Lane. Police added that a second, unknown man also attempted to catch the fleeing snatcher, but he managed to escape.

The purse snatcher was described as white, 19 to 20, stocky, with neck length dark blonde hair, wearing a dark red T shirt, frayed khaki shorts and dirty sneakers. Nothing has been recovered yet, police said.

Guard Is Assaulted. Detective Timothy Hulzing is continuing the investigation of the assault of a security guard early last Wednesday morning at the Medical Arts Building on Witherspoon Street.

The guard, Robert Gardner, 49, of Trenton, told police that he was struck on the head by an unknown assailant while he was checking an open office. He was treated for a contusion on the left side of his forehead. Police were notified of the incident at 2:58 a.m.

TWO CARS ENTERED

At Community Park Lot. Car thieves — much like the swallows of Capistrano — return regularly to the Community Park lots once the pool season activities begin.

Township police have reported this year's first entries, both taking place on Friday between 5:30 and 7:15 p.m. Margaret L. Giebel of Kendall Park lost a watch, school ring and $20 (total value: $105) tak-

Perfect Weather Draws Huge Crowd to Fete

There are no exact figures to prove it yet, but the Roaring 20th Fete, put together by several hundred volunteers from all over the Princeton area, must have been the biggest and most successful fete to date.

No count can be kept of the number of people who turned out spurred on by the sunny skies and pleasant temperature (a welcome change from the washout the previous holiday weekend), however estimates range around 25,000 to 30,000.

They came in so many cars that the orderly system of parking on the huge field had to be abandonned, and cars parked in hay fields and along Washington Road.

Almost everyone came to eat, chomping through the entire supply of 4,000 hot dogs and 4,000 hamburgers by 2:30. Other items were not ignored; 1,650 pieces of chicken, 1,600 hoagies, 350 chef salads, a new feature this year, were eaten, topped off by all the fudge and strawberry shortcake available. All this was washed down with 20 kegs of draft beer, another innovation, and an untold number of soft drinks.

All in all, the record breaking day for food at the Fete helped push the total gross receipts up around $90,000. The money was coming in so fast, those responsible for counting it found many of the bills stuck together by cotton candy.

The auction did its usual brisk business selling everything from old kitchen tables to a Tiffany gold desk set for $450. A pony went for $150.

The Fete's ability to handle such a large turnout was not strained. Almost all lines for food or games moved along well. There was but one accident, when a small boy had his leg broken when hit by one of the tractors collecting trash. The large inflatable bubble known as the "Moon Walk" one of the most popular attractions at the Fete, deflated briefly with children inside, but was quickly pumped up, with no harm done.

And finally, the winner of the car raffle which had the Pinto station wagon from Nassau Conover was P. C. Boothby, who is employed there.

Century-Old Reunion Mementoes on Display

An antique cocktail shaker dating from 1903, banners and mugs and posters from the classes of '71, '72, '73—and that means 1871, 1872 and 1873—will be on display this weekend in Bainbridge House, home of the Princeton Historical Society for the nostalgic edification of Princeton University alumni back for Reunion Weekend.

Bainbridge House will be open this Friday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m.; this Saturday from 10 noon and this Sunday, 2-4 p.m.

The artifacts were obtained from the University archives and arranged by student members of the Historical society. Student members, who are high school age or recent high school graduates, conceived, planned and arranged the show.

Working over the past two or three months, they have made contact prints of old campus buildings, using glass negatives from the Society's large collection. These prints will be for sale, as well as on display.

Most of the items in the exhibit are in remarkably fine condition, perhaps symbolic of the returning grads themselves. For example, the '77 banner held in the adjoining picture by Sharon Staudinger is still brilliantly orange and stoutly black, although it is well over 95 years old—yes, that's 1877.

One raffish old poster, made for the Class of '91, has linen backing and only one or two faded words. Its theme is the general unworthiness of the Class of '93. "All the world's a stage," it intones, "and '93 are merely supers on it."

"The advent of '94 is at hand and since this glorious class has entered the sacred portals of Old Nassau, that concentrated essence of filth, that colossal phenomenon of ignorance, that unadulterated (word missing) known as '93 have with drawn their ugly and blood besmeared mugs into their nasty nests and do gnash their teeth and chew bed-clothes in despair and (word missing) where you can't eat bed-clothes any longer."

In a somewhat more genial vein is the cocktail shaker, engraved "Daffodils of Princeton, 1903." The Daffodils were apparently dedicated to a certain degree of hedonism: "And then my heart with pleasure fills and dances with the Daffodils," they observed, with Wordsworth, and engraved their motto around the shaker.

How one won the cup is lost in time, but it was retired by somebody who won it twice, and there is no engraved name after 1950.

The "Class Boy" cup of 1851, a six-inch Class of '79 doily, possibly the antecedent of today's coaster, loud-mouth horn's that still blow (no date), and a lovely old wooden "fan" from a Calico Party of 72—101 years old—each blade of the fan signed by a member of the Class of '71, the Class of '72, the Class of '73...

And to show the strong, unbroken thread, a banner from the class of...1973.

GOING WAY, WAY BACK: Memorabilia from Princetan University classes of a century ago will be on display this weekend and all summer at Bainbridge House, home of the Historical Society. Here two of the students who arranged the exhibit show some of its treasures. Dominic Nogare holds a silk banner with "PC" for Princeton College. Date is unknown, but the institution was called "College" until 1896, when it became Princetan University. Various mugs and a 1903 cocktail shaker are on the table. Sharon Staudinger is holding a century-old pennant.

en from her handbag, while Charles G. Clark, 50 Valley Road, reported losing $2.50 from a wallet he had left in his car. In both thefts, police said, a vent window had been pried open.

A vent window was forced to enter the car of Robert E. Schroth of Trenton while it was parked one evening last week in the Rusty Scupper lot. Taken, police said, were an 8-tape stereo player, two speakers and 40 tapes. The combined loss was $330.

A 10 speed bicycle valued at $128 was stolen last week from an unlocked screen porch at 347 Mercer Street. Police identified the owner as John M. Burke.

STUART HALL ENTERED

By Thieves. Borough police reported three breaking and enterings Saturday, including an entry into Stuart Hall on the Princeton Theological Seminary campus.

A speech studio office on the third floor of Stuart Hall was entered by way of a bathroom window, police said. Taken were an amplifier, turntable and calculator with a combined value of $650. Ptl. William Hunter investigated, assisted by Det. Arthur Gallant who dusted the office for prints.

George Holmes, program director at the Youth Center, 102 Witherspoon Street, reported a theft of a small radio and $62.50.

He stated the theft took place between 11:30 Friday night and 9:40 the next morning. Police believe that an open window on the Green Street side of the building was used to enter the building.

Irwin Barrentios, 126 John Street, lost $200 to a sneak thief.

He told police that the money was in a wallet he had left lying on his bed while he went to visit a friend next door, leaving his door unlocked. He reported the incident at 12:50 Sunday morning.

Suitcases, Stereo Taken. Princeton University coed Cornelia Daley, 53 Holder Hall, told police that someone had entered her room during the weekend and removed a stereo receiver valued at $200 and her two suitcases filled with clothing worth an additional $200.

Police report that there were no signs of forced entry, although two open windows on the south side of the building may have been the possible means of entry.

PHS Principal?

"A very strong possibility" exists that the Princeton Regional School Board will announce the name of the new high school principal at next Tuesday's public meeting, Superintendent Philip E. McPherson said this week.

The board has re-scheduled its June meeting to harmonize with vacation. The meeting will be held, as usual, at 8 p.m. in Community Park School.

A Middle School principal may possibly be announced also, Dr. McPherson said.

Laura Sisco of Cranbury reported last week the theft of a portable TV set from her car while it was parked in front of 16 Witherspoon Street. Police said that the right front door lock had been slipped.

A foreman for the Sandean Construction Co. reported Friday morning the theft of a medicine cabinet from a building under construction at the Queenston Condomium site on of vandalism. One section of a folding door was damaged, he said, and some holes had been punched in a section of dry wall.

Attempt TV Theft Fails. One attempted theft last week was only partially successful, police report.

Thursday evening, Leonard Taylor Jr., 197 Witherspoon Street, had loaded a truck preparing to move to Cranbury. His wife heard a noise, police report, and shouted an alarm. In checking, Mr. Taylor found a TV set that had been removed from the truck and set on the pavement.

Before being frightened off, however, the thief managed to steal a 28mm and 200mm camera lens belonging to Mr Taylor.

BROOKLYN MAN CHARGED

After Restaurant Disturbance. A Brooklyn man was charged with being drunk and disorderly after he created a disturbance last week at the Annex Restaurant on Nassau Street.

Raymond Quinton, 40, was arrested by Ptl. William Hunter and Ptl. Victor Fasanella after he threw a beer bottle at the bartender (he missed) and allegedly gave police a hard time when they tried to quiet him. Initially held in Borough Jail in lieu of $500 bail, he was later examined at the Princeton Medical Center. Doctors there subsequently signed papers to have Quinton committed to the Vroom Building at the State Hospital in Trenton.

Malicious Damage. Robert Yeager, 40, of John Street, was charged with malicious damage to property Saturday, following an incident at 246 John.

According to Borough police, Yeager had first created a disturbance at the 246 residence at 11 a.m. He returned again at 4:30 and allegedly

TRIANGLE THIS WEEKEND

Two Shows at McCarter. The 84th annual production of the Princeton Triangle Club, "Future Schlock," reopens for two performances Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30.

Returning to McCarter Theatre after four performances in May, the show recreates the history of the destroyed 20th century in the eyes of 21st century man. To carry out its large scale plan, the Triangle Club presents 30 sketches in revue-format, staged on a multi-level set, supported by a completely rigged loft. The show features 16 musical numbers, 10 of which incorporate professionally - choreographed dancing.

As a unique addition to this year's production Walter Cronkite, Howard Cosell, John Chancellor and Dick Cavett have each agreed to appear (on film) in every show, performing material written by Princeton undergraduates. Tickets remain for both performances and are on sale at the McCarter Theatre box office. Phone orders are accepted by dialing 921-8700.

SEASON SET

Four Plays at Intime. Continuous, seven-day-a-week entertainment, focused on a Drama Series of four plays, will be offered this summer between July 5 and August 26 by Summer Intime, operating as usual for the past five summers, out of Murray Theatre on the University campus.

The four plays will be "The Philanthropist," by Christoper Hampton, "The Birthday Party," by Harold Pinter, "The Beaux' Strategem" by George Farquhar and "Tango" by Slawomir Mrozeck.

"The Philanthropist", opened in London and New York in 1970 and is described as a serious comedy of men and women in a university town.

Pinter's play was his first full - length drama, and is somewhat more straightforward than his later plays. The Farquhar is the last play of the great English Restoration dramatist. Intime says it has "freewheeling liveliness, sophisticated urbanity and worldliness."

"Tango" opened in the writer's native Poland in 1965, and came to New York four years later. It's about a young man and his wild Bohemian family, and the New York Times decided it was a cross between Hamlet," "The Cherry Orchard" and "You Can't Take it With You."

Season subscription information may be obtained from Intime's box - office, 452-8181. Plays will run Thursdays thru Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m. Opening night is July 5.

GOD AND OLD

21 Film Classics Coming. They range from Valentino to Jack Nicholson — the stars in the 21 films selected for summer evening pleasure by Summer Intime.

Films will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights each week starting Monday, July 2. Screenings will be in air-conditioned McCormick Art Museum, directly behind Murray Theatre. Presentations will be at 7:30 p.m. Subscriptions are available.

Here are the titles: "Five Easy Pieces," "The Harder They Fall," "Evening of Classic Comedy (Fields, Keaton, Keystone Kops)" "Georgy Girl," "The Stranger," "LORD Jim," "The Crime of Monsieur Lange," "All the King's Men," "Raisin in the Sun," "The Chase," "The Red Balloon," "The Last Hurrah," "Ollies," "Bridge Over the River Kwai," "The Blue Angel," "The Caine Mutiny," "Comedy Tonight (Chaplin and Keaton)" "Interlude," "Nosferatu" and "Blood," on a double bill "Golden Boy," and "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."

REPEAT PERFORMANCES

The Gilbert and Sullivan operetta will be performed on Saturday at 5 and 9 p.m. at Wilcox Hall on the University campus. Admission is free, although donations will be solicited after each performance. For reservations call 452-7128.

RECITAL SATURDAY

By Betty Kehoe Students. The Betty Kehoe School of Dance will present its 24th annual Dance Recital at Princeton Day School Theatre Saturday evening at 8:15. Children, from the very young to the advanced group, will perform in tap, ballet, and modern jazz numbers.

Mrs. Kehoe, who has been a prominent figure in the Dance World for many years, believes her pupils should display their accomplishments in as nearly a professional setting as possible. She always has a show theme, scenery and professional costumes to create a proper atmosphere for her recitals. This year's recital will feature "Musical Albums" for the tap and modern jazz sequence and a child's version of "Sleeping Beauty" for the ballet.

GARDEN

Carnal Knowledge (now playing) Mike Nichols-Jules Feiffer's sex comedy — without an ounce of passion — that focuses on the sexual activities of two college roommates (Jack Nicholson and Arthur Garfunkel), chronicling their cheerless bedroom "scores" from the Forties until they reach the age of 40 — and for Nicholson impotency.

The girls are Candice Rergen and Ann-Margaret. The latter, as those who are familiar with this 1971 film, is the big surprise for her sensitive portrayal of Bobby — a television commercial model with a size 38, D cup, on the brink of 30 who is tired of bed hopping and is willing to be domesticated.

In the film, Nicholson is the smoothie, Garfunkel the eternally naive one. Both spot Bergen at the same time but while Garfunkel fumbles after her (he eventually marries her) Nicholson two-times him and beds her first.

While there are enough laughs to make the audience believe they are watching a comedy, the film is essentially a portrayal of Nicholson's sexual descent and of his considerable meanness. The acting under Nichols' direction is all first rate (R)

The Graduate. Already considered a classic after only five years, the appeal of this film refuses to subside. It spawned the careers of: Mike Nichols as a director and Dustin Hoffman as an actor, and set the pattern for the spate of sex comedy films that were to follow.

The scene where Hoffman registers for himself and Anne Bancroft, the bitchy mother of the girl he wants to marry, for their first sexual liaison, has lost none of its sparkle. One of the best.

MUSIC In Princeton

TICKETS AVAILABLE

For Trenton Symphony Concert. Tickets are still available at the University's McCarter Theatre for the Charles S. Robinson Memorial Concert to be performed by the greater Trenton Symphony Orchestra Monday evening, June 11, at 8.

The program of Bach, Beethoven, Debussy, Piston, and Richard Strauss is being performed at McCarter specially for the town of Princeton as part of the wish of the late Mr. Robinson, a printer, editor and publisher, to promote "popular interest in Music through the giving of concerts, preferably of orchestral music of the highest order. . ."

The Trenton Symphony, conducted by William Smith, is New Jersey's oldest professional symphony orchestra whose past performances have been warmly received by audiences in Trenton, Princeton, and eslewhere in the state.

Tickets for the concert are specially priced at $1 each at the McCarter box office, which is open Monday through Saturday from 10 to 6 p.m. Telephone reservations will be accepted at 921-8700

Charles S. Robinson, a benefactor of Princeton Hospital, Princeton Public Library, the University and the town, died in 1926 at age 80. It was in his will that he expressed his wish to promote Princeton's interest in music through public concerts.

OUTDOOR CONCERT SET

First Is June 14. The first in a series of three outdoor chamber concerts at Princeton University will present the Tokyo String Quartet at 8:30 on Thursday, June 14, in the North Court of the Graduate College.

The concerts are open to the public without charge and since no formal seating is provided the audience is advised to bring blankets. Parking is available adjoining the Graduate College off Springdale Road.

"Last year's concerts were an occasion for warm and informal mingling of town and gown," said Mrs. Barbara Sand, Director of the Summer

IT'S NEW To Us

GOING CAMPING? Check Varsity Sport First. Varsity Sport Shop has recently expanded its selection of camping equipment and has opened an upstairs room to display it.

Biking has become a popular means of getting into the country for a day's picnic or a camping vacation, and packs of many sizes are available in which to carry equipment. We saw packs that fit on the front handle bars, $12; the back seat, $15, or saddle bags that go over the rear fender, $30. They are all of waterproof nylon and free your back from strain.

However, for a long trip which requires a fair amount of equipment or for hiking, a back-pack may be needed. These have frames, some of which are adjustable, and can easily carry 30 pounds of provisions. They are priced from $35 to $75.

And, if your children are into camping, Jan Sport has a small back pack, complete with straps and adjustable frame, $25.

Varsity Sport also has various smaller back packs without frames for day or overnight trips. These rucksacks and knapsacks by Gerry, Kelty or Jan Sport cost $3.95 to $30.

Freeze-Dried Food. The first thing to put in these packs might be Mountain House freeze-dried food. The selection reads like the menu at your favorite restaurant — cheese omelet, tuna salad, beef chopped suey, shrimp creole, beef and potatoes, vegetables, raspberry crunch and ice cream.

Similar to the popular freeze-dried coffees, they are easily prepared by boiling water, adding the contents of a package, and stirring for five minutes. A main course such as chili with beans costs $1.40 for a two person serving.

For overnight trips there are tents and sleeping bags. A two person Lodgepole tent by Gerry complete with a waterproof floor, flaps and poles is $73. It weighs less than four pounds and compactly folds up.

Sleeping bags are available with either a dacron or down filling and are rectangular or tapered. A light summer sleeping bag with a dacron filling begins at $18, whereas a down-filled bag that can keep you warm in temperatures of 40 degrees below zero can cost $110.

Sleeping Well. The whole camping experience is based on weight and size so that the most equipment can be taken along at the least weight, by those who do not care to "rough" it. In line with this, Gerry has a shortie foam sleeping pad that is lighter than the old air mattresses, $7.95.

This foam pad is part of the Gerry sleeping system. You put your clothes in the pillow sack, snap it to the shortie foam pad, and then sleep on top of it all in the sleeping bag. Then in the morning it all can be stuffed back into the sack, and easily tied below a back pack or onto a bike.

Steve Spiegel, Varsity Sport's owner, has included many lightweight convenience items to make camping easier. Gerry's mini stove is an example. Only 4 1-2 inches in diameter and weighing just seven ounces it is quickly assembled, and with a self-sealing LP gas container it gives three hours of cooking, $10.50.

Other suggestions include a fold up saw, $7.95; waterproof and windproof matches, 20 cents, first aid kit, $3.98, and plastic containers for many uses, 29 cents and up. There is also an emergency tube tent for two men, $2.50; many pocketed hiking shorts of polyester and cotton, $9.95; and the NASA Apollo space blanket made of aluminized plastic film, $8.95.

Varsity Sport, at 138 Nassau Street is open from 9 until 5:30 Monday to Saturday, with Friday evening hours until 9.

FOR THE CAMPER: This compact sleeping bag, displayed by Varsity Sport owner Steve Spiegel, is one of several items available in the store's expanded camping section located on the second floor. This model can be tied conveniently to any of the backpacks or rucksacks shown on the wall.

AT THE FASHION DECK

Wide Variety of Women's Sportswear. Just north of Princeton, where routes 518 and 27 meet, is a store called the Fashion Deck. It is part of the Marketplace, a shopping area with the concept that each store carry current season merchandise at reduced prices.

Mike Lorenh, Fashion Deck's manager, told us that they carry no seconds, but are able to offer lower prices because of manufacturer's closeouts and overproduction.

The store has a wide selection of sportswear in sizes for women and juniors. Probably the most popular item in a nylon top that comes in 39 colors so it can be matched to almost any skirt or slacks. A sleeveless shell is $3.99 and a short-sleeved shirt style is $5.99.

For summer evenings there are many long dresses, and we loved a white eyelet polyester and cotton with a tiny strawberry print. It has a halter top and green bias trim, $21.99. There is also a long-sleeved shirtwaist with silver buttons that is made of a dressy acetate and rayon. This dress comes in a red and white or green and white print, $31.99.

Bold Prints. In bold abstract prints of purple and green or pink and purple, there are palazzo pants with matching halter tie-front blouses, $12.99. This same style is also available in a white dot with a solid background of navy, pink, green or yellow.

Lots and lots of slacks are

Outgrown Shop Moves to Nassau Street

After several years on Witherspoon Street, the Outgrown Shop has happily suffered the same fate as its merchandise, and has moved to new and larger quarters at 234 Nassau Street.

Operated for the benefit of the Princeton Day School the shop will be located in the rear of the building over J. B. Redding and Sons near Chestnut. A manager has been hired and hours will now be 10 to 5 Tuesday through Friday and Saturday from 10 to 3 from late August until the middle of June. Mondays it will be open for receiving clothes only. No more appointments are necessary.

Beginning this Monday, through Friday, June 22, the shop will be open to receive summer and fall clothes only. Clothes should be clean, in good condition, with no shoes, hats, lingerie accepted, with the exception of boots, ice skates and riding hats. All items left should have the size pinned on them.

Those leaving clothes on consignment will receive 50 percent of the sale price less $1 for handling. The shop urges donations instead of consignments, pointing out that the total sales price can then be used as a tax deduction.

The store will close for the summer on June 22 and reopen Monday, August 27 again to receive clothes. It plans to start selling Tuesday, August 28.

here at the Fashion Deck. There is a blue or red gingham with cuffed legs in polyester by Brattle Square, $12.99, or a cuffed wide-leg red plaid with a narrow navy belt, $10.99. By Try 2 we saw a pale blue high-waisted pair of slacks with a narrow pink belt, $6.99, and with these was a blue midriff knit top having tiny embroidered flowers in several pastel colors, $3.99.

A special slack buy includes proportioned straight leg slack in polyester solids of navy, pink, red, aqua or tan for only $5.99, a price Mr. Lecean had to fight for.

For Tennis or Golf. The variety of sportswear includes a tennis dress by Quantum with a red heart and the word "LOVE" in navy, $17.99; a white eyelet beach shirt, $10.99 and a white golf skirt by Harburt with a green and white applique of a flower and butterfly, $16.99. To go with the Harburt skirt is a green and white striped shirt, $9.99.

Also available are bathing suits. There was a good-looking one-piece suit with navy trim by Peter Pan, $17.99, and a two-piece navy, white and green print suit by Beach Party, $10.99.

Blazers come in seersucker plaids, madras, and solids beginning at $13.99, but our favorite was a green with a white stripe, $20.99. Made by Double Talk this blazer has matching cuffed slacks, $14.99, and together they form a nice suit.

The Fashion Deck is open Monday to Saturday from 10 until 6, and Thursday and Friday evenings it remains open until 9:30.

Chamber Concerts, in outlining plans for the upcoming concerts. She expressed gratitude to the New Jersey State Council on the Arts for its support of the concerts and noted that the program must also "rely heavily on the generosity of music lovers in the community."

The Tokyo String Quartet won international critical acclaim in its worldwide debut tour in 1970. The four young artists are: Koichiro Harada, violin, Yoshiko Nakura, violin, Kazuhide Isomura, viola, and Sadao Harada, cello.

They studied together at the Toho School in Tokyo and at the Juilliard School in New York. They formed the group under the aegis of the Juilliard String Quartet three years ago. Their program for June 14 will include Hayden's Quartet in C Major, Opus 50, No. 2; Bartok's Quartet No. 6, and Beethoven's Quartet in C Major, Opus 59 No. 3.

The two other concerts in this summer's series will be on Thursday, July 5, when the performers will be the Eastern Brass Quintet; and Thursday, July 26, with the Princeton Chamber Artists.

Contributions for the Summer Chamber Concerts may be made by checks payable to the Trustees of Princeton University and sent to: Summer Chamber Concerts, Woolworth Center, Princeton University. All contributions are tax deductible.

News Of The Theatres

Man Of La Mancha (now playing) This movie version of the popular stage musical is not likely to match the latter's success even though it has Sophia Loren.

A likeable score with one idealistic anthem for audiences to embrace — "The Impossible Dream" — socked it to the theater crowd; in the film, it sung timidly by a cast of non-singers. Peter O'Toole, James Coco and Loren.

The plot premise, which has the imprisoned Cervantes entertaining his dungeon - mates by telling them the story of Don Quixote, is performed without much of a sense of humor. Visually, the conflict between the dungeon interiors and pantomine fantasies and the open spaces of LaMancha has not been worked out satisfactorily, and the shifts between reality and fantasy tend to become confusing.

The film takes Cervantes' belief that "reality is a stone prison crushing the human soul" too much to heart; there is little attempt to lighten the despair. Rated G.

Sleuth (starts Friday) is a grand, dazzling film version of a grand, dazzling mystery play, acted to the hilt and then some by Laurence Olivier and Michael Caine. Author Anthony Shaffer's clever dialogue and diabolical plotting work even better on the screen.

The story involves a celebrated writer of detective novels, one Andrew Wyke, who invites his wife's lover over to his home to participate in a crime — the theft of his wife's jewels. The idea is that the cuckolded husband would get the insurance money, and the lover would be able to support the wife with the money acquired from the fence who buys the jewels.

But it turns out that this is not the writer's real idea at all. He's a man with murder in his eye, but he underestimates the resiliency of his wife's lover. It's a deadly contest in which none of those concerned gets what he had expected to get.

MONTGOMERY

Dr. Zhivago. David Lean's epic film based on Boris Pasternak's novel won six Academy Awards and has an all-star cast.

Curiously, the weakest performance is that of Omar Sharif, who smiles prettily but fails to breathe life into the decision-torn Zhivago. Tom Courtney, Rod Steiger and Alec Guiness, however, are superb in lesser roles.

Geraldine Chaplin as Zhivago's wife and Julie Christie as Lara, with whom he falls in love, and cannot forget are both excellent, particularly Christie. But it is the scenes that make Zhivago rank so high: the slaughter of the demonstrators by the Czarist soldiers, and the train ride across the winter vastness portray the Russia that Zhivago both loved and hated.

broke a table. Rhetta McGowan, 246 John, signed the complaint summons against Yeager, who was released in $250 bail.

Car Top Cut. Mrs. Marjorie Baker, 142 Mercer Street, reported that the top of her 1970 convertible had been slashed Monday night while it was parked in the rear of Princeton High School.

Police gave no estimate of the damage.

TWO FACE COURT ACTION

Following Police Arrest. Two juveniles await possible action by a juvenile court following their arrest last week by Township police. Both have been released to their parents.

A 17 - year - old Jamestown youth was charged with being under the influence of a controlled dangerous substance when he was found alone in a car on Drake's Corner Road. Police report that he was pale, convulsing and in a semi-conscious state.

A 15 year-old Borough youth was charged with shoplifting after he allegedly stole a $14 jacket Friday in Bamberger's in the Princeton Shopping Center.

BAT, SNAKE ROUNDED UP By Borough Police. Police not only apprehend criminals, they round up runaway animals.

Monday Dave Burrough, owner of the Princeton Recreation Lanes bowling alley at 338 Nassau called police to report that a bat was flying around inside. The bat was caught, live, by Sgt. Robert Anderson and Ptl. Joseph Holiday and stored in a refrigerator at Borough Hall until it could be examined for rabies by the state health lab.

An officer commented it was important to conduct the rabies check in the face of evidence of airborne transmission of rabies. "You don't have to be bitten," he said. "You can get it just by being in the same room with an infected bat."

Last week, police responded to a call that there was a snake on the front sidewalk at 38 Witherspoon Street.

Sgt. Ralph Procaccino picked up a two and one-half foot boa constrictor and took it to the Noah's Ark pet shop in the Princeton Shopping Center. Police commented that this is the time of year when students on the university campus who have animals set them loose rather than take them home.

TO CONTROL "HARRY"

Flood Measure Passed. Consolidation, sewers and heraldry occupied a considerable time span for Township Committee Monday night (see elsewhere, "Topics of the Town"), but there was some action, too.

An application for Federal money to make a flood-control study of Harry's Brook was denied, so the Township must go ahead on its own. A supplemental appropriation of $20,800 was passed Monday, to be used with the $10,000 already set aside, for a full scale study of the troublesome stream.

Part of the money will be used for aerial topographical maps, and the study as a whole will provide what Mayor Jay Bleiman called "bench mark data" for future use. Elson T. Killam Associates, Inc., were awarded the contract.

Do we survey the Borough's part of the brook, too?" asked Helen Fairbanks from the audience. "Seems to me we always do everything for them."

Mayor Bleiman said he and hoped the county would come from the Regional Planning Board's budget and added that while most of Harry's Brook

Want to Be Magistrate?

Borough and Township will continue to have the same magistrate after they lose the present magistrate, Theodore T. Tams, to a higher court probably around September 1.

Applicants who would like to serve both communities are asked to apply by June 15. A joint committee of Borough Council and Township Committee members will make the selection.

was in the Township, he did hope to recoup some of the cost.

The ordinance banning parking on Alexander Street near the Rusty Scupper, was approved. Engineer Joseph Hodak reported that the Scupper's attorney, A. C. Reeves Hick had informed him of verbal state aproval for a parking lot adjoining the restaurant. State and Mr. Hodak now agree that the area isn't in the flood plain. No actual construction will be done on the lot until written approval arrives, Mr. Hodak said.

pose" a sewer in the western section of the road, was forwarded to the Board of Health Committeeman Abbott Low Moffat explained that the proposal is in the recent long range capital budget only in a preliminary way. He emphasized that no committment was involved and assured residents that the proposal will be restudied.

A resolution setting up a "stop" sign on Linden at Guyot was approved.

DRIVER FINED TWICE

In Traffic Court, A Cranbury resident paid two fines Monday after he pleaded guilty to a pair of traffic offenses in Borough court.

Judge Theodore T. Tams fined Joel Lewis, 36, Northgate Apartments, $30 for leaving the scene of an accident, and $25 for careless driving. George Whittker III, 41 Spring Street, and John M. Rice 60, 16 Fisher Avenue, paid $15 and $12 each for stop sign infractions.

Failing to observe a flashing signal cost Gary D. Saretzky, 27, 16 Charlton Street, $25. Paying fines of $10 each were Edward K. Geisel, 17, Princeton Junction, hitchhiking, and Daniel L. Poling, 18, Cranbury Neck Road, Cranbury, no license or registration in possession.

NEW RESTAURANT?

Bowling Alleys May Change.

The Princeton Recreation Center's 12-lane bowling alley at 138 Nassau may become a 232-seat restaurant with adjoining stores and offices if municipal officials give their approval.

Robert H. Poitras plans to buy the Center from David Burrough, who has owned it for the past 20 years. Mr. Poitras' proposals are scheduled for site-plan consideration at this Wednesday's meeting of the Princeton Regional Planning Board.

If he passes site plan, he will go before the Borough Zoning Board at a meeting scheduled for Thursday, June 14. He will need a use variance for the ground floor of the building because he plans a retail establishment in a Residential-Office zone, and a use variance for the second floor because he proposes a restaurant there, also in a Residential-Office zone.

The alleys now have six lanes downstairs and six lanes

Fete a Roaring Success.

To The Editor of Town Topics:

The June Fete was a Roaring Success! The list of hard working individuals and organizations of the Princeton Medical Center Community numbers in the thousands. To everyone who donated his time, talents and services; to those who came and enjoyed the Fete and to the weatherman, we are deeply grateful.

Special thanks from the Fete Committee to Princeton University, to the municipal, fire and police departments of Princeton Borough and Township and West Windsor Township, to the many other educational institutions of the community, to the news media, to the hundreds of merchants and businessmen of the area, to the churches, service clubs, unions and other organizations, to the Medical Center personnel, and to the many youth organizations.

We are especially indebted to Town Topics for its interest and continuous coverage of all Fete activities.

Warning Light Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter I have sent to the Township Safety Officer Sgt. Anthony Nini.

BRENDA DAVIES
Kingston Terrace Apts.

I read in TOWN TOPICS last week of the death of Leo Friend in an auto accident at the intersection of Cherry Valley and the Great Road.

I was driving along this section of Cherry Valley last week and did exactly what he must have done: i.e., failed to see the STOP sign and drove, at a fair speed, straight across the Great Road. As I passed it I saw the sign, but it was much too late to stop then.

The incident gave me a shock and I continued on my way extremely thankful that there had not been another car at the intersection.

I beg you to have a warning light put at this intersection. I haven't travelled the road again, but I do not think there is even a warning of the STOP sign coming up, which is very necessary since the driver on Cherry Valley has the right of way at the previous intersections travelling either east or west.

I trust you will give this matter your immediate attention.

"No" to Square Closing.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

With regard to the closing of part of Palmer Square, my vote is a definite NO. In addition to the reasons already cited on this negative side, including loss of parking spaces and mail boxes, I would like to add those of the extra mileage and time required to reach the vital post office and Inn facilities, together with the waste of gasoline and the additional pollution that every traffic bottleneck entails. In my view the Square should be re-opened immediately.

upstairs, where there is a cocktail lounge. According to Donald Harney, Borough engineer Mr Burrough obtained in 1963 a waiver from off street parking requirements because of the hours when the alleys were open.

Mr Burrough said this week that he has had his property on the market for the past four years.

SEWARO JOHNSON NAMED

To Hun Board of Trustees. J Seward Johnson of Princeton, recently retired Chairman of the Finance Committee of Johnson and Johnson has been elected to the Board of Trustees of The Hun School of Princeton.

Dr Paul R Chesebro, Headmaster of Hun said in making the announcement: "Mr Johnson joins us at a time when we are expanding our facilities with a new student center, adding a Lower School, and admitting girl boarders for the first time. His broad experience with finance and planning as well as his deep concern for the personal development of young people, will add a great deal to the quality of new Hun programs."

J. Seward Johnson

Mr Johnson has served for 50 years on the Johnson and Johnson Board of Directors. He is the brother of the late General Robert W Johnson, Chairman of the Board of Johnson and Johnson.

He is currently assisting in the scientific expeditions of the Florida Atlantic Foundation, a charitable organization in the medical and educational field.

MANDARIN CLASS SET

For This Summer. In response to the great interest shown by the community, the U.S.-China People's Friendship Association is presenting its second beginners course in Mandarin Chinese this summer.

The class is scheduled to begin on Wednesday June 20 and will run for six consecutive Wednesdays, except July 4. The class will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at a cost of $15 per person.

The textbook to be used is John Francis "Beginning Chinese," which is in the system of romanization now in use in China. A follow-up course will be offered when this one ends. For information and registration call Mrs or Rick Johnson at 924-8247 or write to the U.S.-China People's Friendship Association, 164 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Obituaries

Dr. Harold Harvey, 79, of 76 Library Place, died June 2 in the Princeton Medical Center. He was a retired surgeon and an authority on the surgical treatment of peptic ulcers.

A native of New York, he was a graduate of Princeton University, class of 1916, and the Columbia University College of Physicians and Interns. He was an intern at New York Presbyterian Hospital, and later joined the surgical staff there.

Dr. Harvey contributed over 25 articles to surgical literature, and co-authored a textry. He wrote several articles on surgical bacteriology and late in his career became an authority in treating peptic ulcers.

Upon retiring in 1959, he served as a consultant in surgery and a professor of clinical surgery emeritus at the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

He was a trustee, chairman of the medical committee and an honorary trustee of the Children's Aid Society in New York. He also was a consultant to St. Bartholomew's Hospital in New York, the Sharon, Conn., Hospital, and the Princeton Medical Center.

He was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons, and a member of the New York Surgical Society, the New York Academy of Medicine and the American Surgical Association.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Katherine Davis Harvey, a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy H. Warren of Providence, R. I.; three sons, William Denning, Princeton, and Seth of Falmouth, Mass., a sister, Mrs. Dorothy H. Baker of Greenwich, Conn.; and 10 grandchildren.

A funeral was held in the Church of the Epiphany, New York, and interment was private, under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Contributions may be made to the Princeton Medical Center.

Owen J. Neely, 77, of 29 West Delaware Avenue, Pennington, died May 30 in Trenton. He was the trolley car conductor who made the last run on the old "Johnson" line between Princeton and Trenton.

Born in Newark, Mr. Neely was raised in Trenton and Yardley and followed in his father's tracks in the trolley business. He began his career January 8, 1916, as a conductor on a trolley car taking spectators back and forth to Billy Sunday revival meetings in Trenton.

In his career he helped to phase out the trolley and bring in the bus as the primary form of public transit. He was the last conductor on a two-man trolley car and the last conductor on a Summer car.

He drove the first bus on the Hopewell run. By the time of his retirement, April 29, 1960, following a round-trip bus ride between Trenton and Asbury Park, he had made every run on the transit system by trolley and by bus.

Surviving are two sons, Owen J. Jr. and Robert of Yardley; four grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

A Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated in St. Ignatius Church, Yardley, and interment was in the parish cemetery.

Kenneth R. Chilcote, 55, died May 29 in Deland, Florida. He had lived in Princeton 25 years before moving to Florida two years ago.

A native of Altoona, Pa. and a veteran of World War II, he was superintendent of the Kingston Trap Rock Industries in Princeton for 12 years. In Deland he was a member of the Southside Baptist Church and the Moose Lodge.

Survivors include his wife, Margaret; his mother, Mrs. Ella Chilcote of Middletown, Pa.; two sisters, Mrs. Jack Yeo of Middletown, Pa., and Mrs. Melice Rupert of McVeytown, Pa.

A service was held at the Mather Funeral Home. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the Heart Fund.

James E. Hardy, 62, of 57 Birch Avenue, died June 3 in Princeton Medical Center.

A native of Chipley, Georgia, he had lived in Princeton for a quarter century.

Survivors include his wife, Ida Hardy; a son, Frank Hardy of Atlanta, Georgia; a brother, Rufus A. Hardy of Detroit; four sisters, Mrs. Ossie Dowell, Mrs. Ruby Morton, Mrs. Lillian Truitt, all of Detroit, and Mrs. Louise Williams of Alabama; two grandchildren; and several nephews and nieces.

The funeral and interment were in Chipley.

Ralph L. Gwin, 83, of 196 Snowden Lane, died May 30 in the Princeton Medical Center. He had moved to Princeton three years ago from Levittown, Pa., where he had resided 18 years.

Born in Altoona, Pa., he retired in 1955 as a chemical operator for Rohm and Haas Chemical Company, of Bristol, Pa., after 15 years of service.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. John Hudnergarth, 196 Snowden Lane; and two grandchildren.

A memorial service was held in the First Presbyterian Church. Interment was in Feasterville, Pa.

Miss Harriet B. Cook, of 123 South Illinois Avenue, Atlantic City, died June 3 in the Princeton Medical Center. She was a native of Lawrence Station, Dutch Neck.

Miss Cook was the education director of the Monmouth County Organization for Social Service. She lived for 40 years in Red Bank before moving to Atlantic City last year.

She was a member of the Wilson College Alumni and the Red Bank Presbyterian Church. Survivors include several nieces and nephews.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home. Interment was in Dutch Neck Cemetery.

LeRoy Q. Holcombe, 85, of North Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, died June 2. He served 18 years as a Hopewell Township committeeman until 1956.

A native of Woodsville, he lived there until moving to Hopewell five years ago. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors include his wife, Marion Lane Holcombe, a son, William W. of Ewing Township; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Mary Weiler of Flemington and Mrs. Kathy Cole of Pennington; three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

A funeral was held in Flemington. Interment was private. Contributions may be sent to the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Ethel F. Petersen, 84, of 47 Edwards Drive, Cranbury, died June 4 in the Princeton Medical Center. The widow of J. Arthur Petersen, she was a member of the Plainsboro Presbyterian Ch.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Mrs. Gertrude Miller of Waynesboro, Virginia and a brother Ernest Lipscomb of Washington, D. C.

The funeral wa held in Cranbury, Burial was in Brookside Cemetery, Englewood.

William Joseph Williams, 86 of 24 Linden Lane, died June 4 at the home of his daughter Mrs. Honey Albert, 97 Abernathy Drive, Trenton. He was a retired retail clothing merchant.

A native of Lithuania, Mr. Williams had lived in the Princeton area over 18 years. He was a member of the Princeton Jewish Center and Workmen Circle Branch No. 90.

In addition to his daughter survivors include his wife Mrs. Jennie Hochman Williams, a son, U. Archie Williams of Winnipeg, Manitoba, a brother, Louis Williams of Trenton; five grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held in Trenton. Interment was in the Fountain Lawn Memorial Park.

Mrs. Rose A. Voorhees, 81 of Little Rocky Hill, died May 31 at Long Beach Memorial Hospital, Long Beach, N.Y.

Widow of John F. Voorhees, she is survived by a sister, Hermine Lusso, and a niece. Cremation was followed by interment at the convenience of the family.

Memorial Service

A memorial service for Professor Lawrance Thompson will be held Monday at 3 p.m. in the Princeton University Chapel. Professor Thompson, a member of the English Department of Princeton University since 1939, died April 15.

Professor Thompson's family and friends have established the Lawrance Thompson Memorial Book Fund. Donations may be sent to William S. Dix, Princeton University librarian. Checks should be payable to Princeton University.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mary E. Grover wishes to thank all their friends, relatives and neighbors for their understanding, sympathy and many kind messes during their recent bereavement.

In 1938, the American legion established a cooperative plan with the American Red Cross to help in a unified program for disaster relief. Under the direction of a national committee, each post appoints a liaison officer to contact the local Red Cross chapter to formulate a plan. The activity units of the legion include rescue work, transportation, medical aid, and helping with supplies. Isn't it good that we can claim such institutions really do help when help is needed.

A Special Seminar on Alpha Brain Wave Function and E.S.P., . . .

Tuesday, June 12
Wednesday, June 13

In June, a national magazine, Newsweek, featured a special article on "Probing the Brain."

In this article discussion was focused on one of the most fantastic breakthroughs in modern psychology, a new science dealing with the conscious control of brain waves —the electrochemical activity of the brain. This new science is called Alphagenics, and concerns itself with the Alpha Rhythms of the brain. Noted researchers discussed how any individual can learn to function at lower levels, control their brain waves and revealed some of the phenomenal capabilities of man with self-control of his brain waves.

There are four principal brain wave rhythms: the Beta-wave, associated with the outer conscious levels, tensions anxiety, physical activity, etc., the Alpha wave, associated with inner levels of mental activity: tranquility, inspiration, creativity, E.S.P., healing processes, memory learning, daydreaming and other phenomena. Theta-waves, which are related to deeper inner meditation mental control of pain, and finally the Delta-waves, which are found in deep sleep or total unconsciousness.

Exploration of this almost unknown continent — the human brain — has been pioneered by a soft-spoken parapsychologist, Joe Silva, of the Institute of Psychorientology, of Laredo, Texas. This sincere dedicated scientist has been training people to function at different levels of brain waves for many years. Twenty-six years ago Silva and his associates began their research in Mind Control to see if it was possible to increase a person's I.Q. factor . . . Amazingly, Silva discovered that not only could I.Q. be increased but a person trained in this technique could even learn to control certain areas of the Automatic Systems, heart beat, respiration, body temperature, etc. The implications of this breakthrough with regard to health and disease were staggering. With Mind Control Techniques it was found that in many cases people could banish pain, accelerate healing, eliminate insomnia, migraine headaches, as well as untold psychosomatic problems.

As research continued, an amazing discovery was made. Volunteer students were found to be surprisingly sensitive to the feelings and emotional attitudes of others. In other words they became more intuitive. In-depth studies revealed that anyone with a normal brain and sufficient training could develop so-called E.S.P. and clairvoyance. Alpha Brain Wave Functioning actually enables anyone to become a superior human being.

Classes Now In 100 Cities

Six years ago the directors of the Institute of Psychorientology decided they were ready to release their findings to the general public, and offer the M.C. Training Program to everyone interested in developing a better mind.

Over 100,000 graduates — Coast to Coast

Now there is no longer any doubt as to the great value of this astounding method of self improvement.

Techniques have been improved and refined to the point that only a few hours of classroom instruction were all that was required to train a truly effective person.

Learn Specific Techniques

Once you have mastered Alpha Brain Wave Functioning, you have better control over anxiety and tension. You can banish insomnia and eliminate pain — unlearn bad habits such as smoking, overeating, drinking, etc., and create good new ones anytime you desire. Your artistic and learning capacity will increase along with your vitality, energy, and self-confidence. You'll be happier and more successful in both the personal and business aspects of your life. What's more, Alpha Brain Wave techniques will make you able to help your loved ones in dramatic and effective ways. In short, you'll be a better student, parent, employee, or employer, became a truly effective problem-solver, a more dynamic person—whatever you'd like to be!

Silva Method of Mind Control

Alpha Brain Wave Functioning literally opens the door to the "Promised Land" — the kingdom within. Through simple, easily learned techniques you can have your heart's desires, become the person you want to be.

Results Guaranteed

It sounds almost too good to be true, yet the facts are that with Silva Mind Control "Almost Nothing Is Too Good To Be True." Learn how to use the key that unlocks the door to your innerconscious mind and release the abundant wealth, power and possibilities within.

lina State College with high honors in agricultural engineering.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Skillman, 98 Magnolia Lane, he was elected to Phi Kappa Phi and Gamma Sigma Delta honorary societies. A 1969 graduate of Princeton High, he will work for the Duke Power Co. in Burlington, N.C.

29 GRADUATE

From Stuart School. Twenty-nine seniors were graduated from Stuart Country Day School last Friday at ceremonies which began with a Liturgy in the morning, followed by prize day for all upper school students. Formal graduation exercises were held later in the afternoon. (For picture of all graduates see Topics of the Town.)

The Faculty Award for outstanding contribution to the school was presented to Marilyn Crawford. She also received the Monitors Award for excellent in writing.

The Bishop George W. Ahr Medal for Religion went to Cynthia Reiche. The Women's College Club of Princeton gave its President's Prize to Mary Flournoy and its 1973 Award to Beatrice Salter. Miss Flournoy was also the Class Valedictorian.

Eleanor Meredith received the award for outstanding leadership of the Student Government. The Society of Outstanding American High School Students granted membership to Miss Crawford. Elizabeth Maruca and Miss Reiche of the Senior Class and also to Marina Cords, Patricia Donelly and Laura Mann of Stuart's Eleventh Grade.

Miss Crawford, Miss Flournoy, Miss Meredith, Miss Salter and Debbie Smalls (11 Grade) have been selected Outstanding Teenagers of America for 1973.

Samuel P. Procaccini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Procaccini, 31 Markham Road, has received a bachelor of science degree from the School of Pharmacy of Duquesne University. He was one of 1,049 undergraduate and graduate students receiving degrees at the May 6 ceremonies in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Fernand Baruch Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Baruch, 170 Poe Road, has graduated with a bachelor of arts degree from Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Virginia. Commencement exercises were June 3.

SIX RECEIVE AWARDS

At PDS Assembly. Six graduating seniors received Headmaster's Awards for special contributions to Princeton Day School at the school's Annual awards assembly Friday.

Headmaster Douglas O. McClure presented the prizes to David Baralh, Helena Brett-Smith, Elizabeth Hutner, Arthur Levy, Gertrude Presrott and Roger Williams.

The Gold "P", awarded each year to a senior boy and girl whose leadership and performance in athletics have been judged outstanding, went to Ellen Fisher and, in a tie award, to Mark Ellsworth and Buzz Woodworth.

The Women's College Club of Princeton President's award to the girl with the highest academic average in the senior class went to Miss Brett Smith.

Alison Ely and Laura Kyser received the American Association of Slavic and East European languages award for excellence in Russian.

NEW POST OFFICE SET

For Lawrenceville. Lawrenceville will get a new post office within the next two years, because it is definitely going to lose its present one.

Fred A. Bentley, who owns the building housing the post office on Main Street, has been seeking to expand his market next door for more than a decade, and now has told U. S. Postal Service authorities he definitely wants them out by next year.

This has prompted postal officials to sign a long term lease with the Lawrenceville School for a lot at Craven Avenue and Main Street where a new post office will be built.

Robert Hoobing, a postal service spokesman, said that the new post office probably can be completed by next year. He pointed out that the postal service has "standard plans" for post offices of various sizes so that design will not take much time.

Mr. Bentley has signed a one year lease with the postal service. He plans to tear down the building and build an addition to his business, which he has operated since 1943. The post office has used the building since 1950.

Lawrence Wants Change. In a related matter, Lawrence Township, which surrounds Lawrenceville, would like to have a single postal identity. Currently mail addressed to Lawrence residents has either Lawrenceville, Trenton or Princeton addresses.

Mr. Hoobing said that giving Lawrence a single postal identity would cause problems because the postal service has to break its zones into workable units. He did say the matter would be discussed with the township council.

It's doubtful that many of those residents with Princeton addresses would care for a change.

MEETING THIS TUESDAY

On W. Windsor School Rusing. The Transportation Policy Task Force of the West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional School Board has scheduled a public meeting for this Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the library of the Maurice Hawk School.

At this time, residents of the school district will be given the opportunity to express their views regarding the school district's present transportation policy as well as react to a number of contemplated policy changes currently being considered by the committee.

The task force which was established by the Board at its meeting, May 22, is composed of Dr. William Watt, Chairman, Mrs. Dorothea Baer, Mr. John Versnel and Mrs. Elfriede Dilatush.

The district is reimbursed by the State for 75 per cent of the cost of transporting elementary school students more than two miles and high school students more than 2.5 miles. Costs of transporting students shorter distances are paid entirely by the school district with no reimbursement by the State.

Students living within the two mile radius who would encounter hazardous conditions in walking to school are presently transported by the district. "Hazardous conditions" have been considered to exist along heavily-travelled roads where there were no sidewalks, traffic lights or crossing guards.

With the opening of the new high school, provision of a traffic light at Hightstown and Clarksville Roads, and planned construction of new sidewalks, by the Township, the Board feels a review of its transportation policies is now appropriate.

Dr. Watt has indicated no

RECREATION REPORT

From West Windsor. At the May Meeting of the West Windsor Recreation Committee final reports were received concerning the summer recreational programs.

Plans were approved for the Playground Program and the "Fun with Music" Program. Mike Katz, Summer Recreational Director, is forming a Teen Planning Committee to develop programs for that group.

The Township has accepted bids for the installation of three additional tennis courts on Hendrickson Drive. The contracts call for installation within 45 days. A water fountain has been installed at the Township tennis courts.

The first piece of new play equipment has been installed at Van Nest Park. This is a climbing castle to which the Recreation Committee plans to add sections at future dates. The swing set has been received and will be installed shortly.

CITIZENSHIP AWARD: Paul R. Henning, a senior at Montgomery High School receives the Soroptimist Youth Citizenship Award from Mrs. Howard Waxwood. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henning, Jamestown Road, Belle Mead, he will compete for regional and national awards.

Cadet Girl Scout Troop No. 634 will plant flowering shrubs at the Park on June 14. The Recreation Committee is arranging for the installation of a telephone booth at the entrance to Van Nest Park.

The Bike Committee will explore the possibility of cooperating with the West Windsor police department in conducting a bike safety and registration program.

The Committee discussed the development of recreation land which has been deeded to the Township. It was reported that the Jefferson Park developer is in the process of grading the land to make it useable for recreational development. The Committee is planning to visit each piece of recreation land in order to identify the needs of each area. Martin Damiani was appointed to head the Nature and Parks Committee.

Nancy Wilcox has been appointed to fill the unexpired Recreation Committee term of Gus Diezemann who is moving from the area. Mrs. Wilcox has been serving on the Advisory Committee to the Recreation Committee.

ADDITION IS STUDIED

For Dutch Neck School. Frank Miller, architect with Uniplan of Princeton, presented the findings of his feasibility study on renovating the Dutch Neck School to members of the West Windsor and Plainsboro communities at a public meeting held last week at the Dutch Neck School.

Studies of the facility by Mr. Miller as well as other Uniplan specialists indicate the school is structurally sound and capable of supporting any addition that may be planned.

In discussing his report, Mr. Miller said he had met with members of the district's teaching staff to determine how the building is presently being used and the problems being encountered by the staff.

He has also received their suggestions for its future use, conducted numerous meetings with the district's administrative staff and visited schools in various locations about the state to examine their facilities and programs.

Robert C. Duncan, Jr., chairman of the Dutch Neck School Renovation Task Force, outlined the future building upon enrollment projections, needs of the district based and the information contained in the Sites and Facilities Task Force Report. He stated the district anticipates an increase in enrollment of approximately 200 students over the next three years.

Mr. Duncan also said it will require a minimum of three years to go from the planning stage to the completion of any addition to the Dutch Neck School to meet this increase in student enrollment. The members of his group are proceeding with their plans to establish a citizens' committee to evaluate, in greater detail, the findings of the architect's study.

Mr. Duncan and Dr. Deane Bornheimer, Board president, emphasized the urgent need for planning ahead, due to the time required for the completion of any construction.

FOUR ARE NAMED

To Stuart Advisory Board. Mrs. Donald J. Bartusis, Mr. John P. Belli, Edward O. Cole and John J. Loughlin have been named to the Advisory Board of Stuart Country Day School.

Pioneering Women in '73 Look Back on Era of Major Changes Here

When Princeton University's Class of 1973 arrived on campus four years ago with 101 women in its ranks, no one knew for sure quite what the results of coeducation would be. Now, as the Class of '73 prepares for its graduation Tuesday, most people would agree that Princeton has changed — for better or worse, depending on the point-of-view — probably far more than anyone had imagined.

Women — one ought not call them "girls," and that's a change in itself — have altered the Princeton environment in all the obvious ways, and more.

As expected, women outperformed the men academically. Fewer women dropped out of the college before graduation. The level of competition for women applicants was higher than for men.

They helped upset the traditional Princeton social system based on the selective eating clubs. Today, all but three of the Prospect Street facilities are coeducational.

One club took so many women that it feared becoming the university's first sorority. As the number of Princeton women undergraduates rose to 1,000, with 1,200 expected next year, membership in a private and expensive club geared to providing weekend entertainment, was made less essential, and a number of clubs closed.

Also as expected, women rose to positions of leadership in student activities. Although no one woman yet has been elected president of the Undergraduate Assembly or chairman of the Daily Princetonian, Marsha H. Levy this year did win the coveted Pyne Honor Prize, the highest distinction the university can confer upon an undergraduate. A senior from White Plains, N. Y., Miss Levy was awarded $3,050, an amount equivalent to one year's comprehensive fee.

Not Just Cheerleaders. But the women were not content to concentrate their energies in the classrooms and student activities offices of Old Nassau.

At a time when some Princeton athletic fortunes were failing to abysmal depths, the women fielded undefeated teams in tennis, squash and swimming. The women's sailing team is a national power. The women's crew won the Eastern championship in 1972. The women simply would not settle for cheering on Princeton's men's varsity teams, although some did that, too.

If any alumni were bothered by coeducation as an educational principle, they must have been appalled when three women fought for — and won — the right to play 150-pound intercollegiate football. Having won, they have apparently been dissuaded from going through with it.

THE NEW LOOK: The University band was the first undergraduate activity to change its appearance in startling fashion when women arrived on the Princeton campus in the fall of 1969.

A recent issue of the Princeton Alumni Weekly tells the story at a glance. The cover shows Margie Gengler, a senior from Locust Valley, N. Y., captain of the undefeated tennis team and a player who has never lost a set in her college career. The caption: "Princeton's Best Athlete."

In the Beginning: Freaks. The many and varied success of women on the campus is particularly pleasing to them because of what most consider the adverse conditions of that first year of coeducation.

"When we first came here we were considered freaks," says June Fletcher, a graduate of Long Branch, N. J. High School. "The ratio of men to women was about 23-1. Most men looked at us as not quite students and not quite girls."

In those first coeducational classes, Miss Fletcher recalls, professors "were continually asking for the 'women's opinion.' I felt I had to prove to men that women were intellectual equals."

In the first weeks of coeducation in 1969, Miss Fletcher was the center of public attention. Earlier that summer, in a contest on the Jersey shore, she had been crowned Miss Bikini USA. No newsman would let her forget it.

The Dating Game. Now, Miss Fletcher is engaged and ready to attend Oxford University in the fall. She plans to return to the United States after two years and continue work in Anglo-Irish studies leading to a Ph.D. Miss Bikini USA is a part of her past she would rather forget.

But the bikini episode illustrates one other surprising influence the women had on Princeton, at least temporarily: the men suddenly became very, very shy.

Miss Fletcher remembers having practically no male friends freshman year. Robin C. Herman, a senior from Port Washington, N. Y., recalls hanging her underwear on a clothesline outside her window, so that men would know a woman lived in that dorm. She got her first date by calling a student she had met in a class and asking HIM to go with her to a dance.

The men now admit — with a somewhat sheepish look — that they were reluctant to enter what they thought would be such fierce competition for so few women. The result was that the first year of coeducation, socially speaking, roughly resembled the first half hour or so of the old cattle drive mixers undergraduates used to have in Dillon Gym.

Nuns and Trappist Monks. Senior Jane Leifer, writing on coeducation for the current issue of the Alumni Weekly, described the social interaction that prevailed in those early days in the university dining halls:

"It was like being a nun eating with an order of Trappist monks. Conversation would have been ungodly."

In her article Miss Leifer recalled the annual freshmen welcoming ceremonies in Alexander Hall. In 1969 an alumnus had sent a yellow chrysanthemum for each of the new women undergraduates.

"The flowers we held were as obvious and as damning as starred yellow armbands would have been. They showed unquestionably that we were different."

F. Scott, Move Over. Miss Leifer's article is the first of several by women about their Princeton experiences. Deborah Leff is submitting one to the New York Times Sunday Magazine. Beth Rom, another senior, is writing a book.

Judging from the tales of coeducation now beginning to surface, a successful sequel to F. Scott Fitzgerald's "This Side of Paradise," long an ambition of literary-minded Princetonians, might easily come from the pen of a woman alumni-writer.

Women concerned with the role that coeducation plays in the overall movement for women's liberation and equality are concerned that the social aspects of coeducation might overshadow more significant topics.

"I don't think we should view this simplistically," says Halcyone H. Bohen, assistant dean of student affairs. "The acceptance of women students is only one step in the consciousness raising."

Second-Class Citizens. Mrs. Bohen and others believe the evidence shows a more signi-

IT ALL BEGAN IN PYNE HALL: When women first entered Princeton as freshmen in 1969, Pyne Hall was virtually isolated to house them, an atmosphere that permeated their first somewhat troubled year on campus.

Topics Of The Town

ficant influence of women on the university and community. "The consciousness of men has been changed, too," says Mrs. Bohen, who has worked with women students since the beginning of coeducation.

"Women in this community always used to think they were second - class citizens. Before coeducation there simply were not that many job opportunities floating around," she says. Today at Princeton University, four of the assistant deans are women, and numerous women are being added to the faculty.

The University also has opened its doors to older, part time degree candidates, four of whom are women. "The university was forced to think of women in more sophisticated terms," Mrs. Bohen said.

Women also may have been forced to think more about themselves. "When I came to Princeton I had no idea what problems would be associated with being in the first group of women," says Miss Herman, who will begin work this summer as a reporter in the sports department — yes, the sports department — of the New York Times. "Speaking up in front of all male classes forced me to strengthen my own self image.

Invidious Discrimination. — "We became too aware of our role," says Miss Fletcher. "When we were freshmen, several of us thought women's lib was silly. In high school, we had always been treated equally."

After the consciousness raising at Princeton, however, "we realized how invidious the discrimination against women in the real world is," she says.

By all indications the change and turbulance created by coeducation is reaching a point of equilibrium. "With a little more time, men and women will not appear to be threats to each other," says Miss Fletcher.

Writes Miss Leifer in the Alumni Weekly: " . . . Next September, when the Class of '77 arrives, all the males at this University will have applied here knowing that it is a coeducational campus, unlike the men of '73 who learned that there were to be girls in Pyne Hall during April of their senior year in high school.

"It means that no one will really talk about coeducation and bad times, and the scars which have amazed and obsessed so many of us. It means that I would love to be a freshman, even again, even at Princeton."

Four Top Linemen Graduating with Class of '73

Princeton's Class of 1973 will not graduate Tuesday with a large number of football players among its members, but four who will receive diplomas are of such top quality that their departure alone creates a major replacement problem for Bob Casciola, the Tigers' new football coach.

All four are in the line, where so much of the outcome of every game is decided. The lone fortunate aspect of their graduation is that the brunt of their loss is evenly divided between the offense and defense.

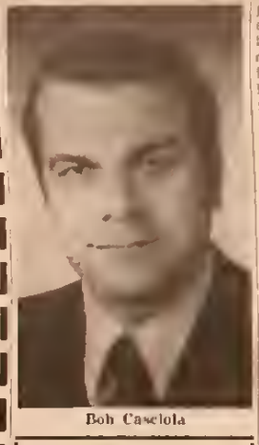
THERE'S A BIG HOLE WHERE HE WAS: Carl Barisich, fine 250-lb. defensive tackle and NFL prospect, graduates Tuesday, leaving Princeton's football team with a major replacement problem.

On a Princeton team which could manage no more than three victories in nine games, four of its starters earned all-Ivy recognition. One 250-lb. Carl Barisich — was good enough to rate an 11th round draft choice from the Cleveland Browns, despite the fact that a knee operation in 1972 prevented him from playing more than two years of varsity football.

Unanimous All-Ivy, an All-East selection, a North-South Shrine Game player on Christmas Day, Barisich was credited with 58 tackles and broke into the opposing backfield to nail a runner or passer 19 times. More often than not, he was double-teamed. As Casciola strives to rebuild the front four, and thus buy valuable time to put teeth in the Tiger offense the gap left by Barisich will prove the most troublesome.

Gone, too, from the left side of the defensive line (which was good enough to give the troubled Tigers first place in rushing defense among the Ivies) is Captain Mike Kincaid. A two-year fixture there and a three-year letterman who also played cornerback and linebacker, Kincaid was twice All-Ivy.

On offense, Princetonians on the All-League team were guards Steve Curtis and Bill Brown, the latter versatile enough so that he started his first two years on the varsity as a tackle. Well before his graduation, Brown was rated one of the top linemen to play here in the past two decades. Curtis, who played either side of center with equal facility, was a two-year All-Ivy choice.



Bob Casciola

SPORTS in Princeton

By positions, these are the graduating Princetonians:

Ends: Kincaid, Steve Hausmann and Mike Hincewicz. Kincaid cleans out both defensive ends, leaving only 240-lb. tackle Ken Beytin to return among the starting front four. A two-year letterman, Hausmann was extremely dependable and had played on either flank. Hincewicz saw three seasons of reserve duty on offense, progressing in his final year to the point where he was the immediate replacement at tight end. He had not won a letter until last fall.

Tackles: Barisich, Brown and Jeff Bart. Like Barisich, Bart lost a year of eligibility (as a sophomore) through a leg injury but came back to play two fine seasons in a starting assignment. At 6-2, 227, he was a distinct asset on a basis of both size and experience.

Guards: Curtis, Brown and Mike Bennett. The latter did not win a letter until his senior year, and saw limited action because he was listed on the depth chart behind Brown, who logged as much playing time in his three years of football here as any member of the Class of '73. However, Bennett's departure along with Brown leaves the only double-barrelled gap — both the ranking players in the same position graduating.

Center: A two-year starter, Paul Yakulis, closed out his career last fall. Yakulis was unusual in that he earned the starting berth at this position after one season as a reserve. His blocking ability in interior action was sound, and his departure with both starting guards and one tackle creates a four man gap that ranks as the largest hole confronting Casciola.

Offensive Backs: Only Kevin English, a reserve flanker back, was a senior among the top eight players in the backfield last fall. A two-year letterman, he played on the defensive platoon until his final year at Princeton.

Others graduating next week are Derek Lilly and Larry Chollet, neither of whom saw a great deal of action. Chollet's moment of glory came at the very end of his career when he scored a touchdown to bring the Tigers within last gasp range of Cornell in the final game last November. However, only a minute remained and the visitors ran out the clock to win, 22-15.

Defensive Backs: Corner back Barry Richardson and linebacker Joe Parsons are the only two of seven regulars playing behind the front four who are seniors. A fine diagnostician, Richardson was a three-year letterman who ability will be extremely difficult to replace.

Parsons captained the class as a freshman, broke into the varsity lineup early in his sophomore season and stayed there. He was a second All-Ivy selection last fall.

From the second defensive unit, the Tigers lose Dave Thompson and Todd Rulon-

Whenever you think about men overcoming handicaps, did you know that men with only one arm have played big league baseball, and big-time football, too! Back in 1945, outfielder Pete Gray, who had only one arm, played in 77 American league games for the St. Louis Browns. And, Guard Ellis Jones, who had only one arm, was a star on the highly ranked Tulsa football teams of the early 1940s, and in fact, played in three bowl games, the Sugar Bowls of 1943-44 and the Orange Bowl of 1945!

Ever wonder how many golf courses there are now in the U.S.? Answer is approximately 10,000. And there are now about 10 million people who play golf. So, that figures out to an average of about one golf course for every 1,000 golfers in America today.

Here's an oddity. The 1927 Yankees are often called the greatest team in baseball history—yet did you know they do NOT hold the record for winning the most games in a season! The '27 Yanks won 110 games, but two other teams have won more in a year. The Cubs of 1906 won 116 and the Indians of 1954 won 111.

Miller, neither a lefterman until the end o his career. Linebacker Mike Coccaro is also a senior.

John Bartges, an offensive tackle but used primarily for placekicking duties, is the 18th member of the Class of '73 whom Casciola must replace. Last fall, he led the Tigers in scoring with four field goals and a dozen points after touchdown for 24 points. When you consider that his p.a.t. beat Rutgers, 7-6, and his field goal topped Harvard, 10-7, for two of the three games Princeton won, he was among the most valuable members of the entire team.

In Lacrosse Here Saturday. The 32nd annual North-South All Star Lacrosse Game will be played Saturday at 3:30 in Palmer Stadium.

Sponsored by the U.S. Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association, this year's game will mark the first time an Ivy League college has hosted the affair and only the second time it has been played in New Jersey. Rutgers was the site of the 1962 contest.

The South squad, coached by Virginia's Glenn Thiel and his assistants, Bill Heiser of Kenyon and Ross Sachs of Franklin & Marshall, includes three members each from national champion Maryland, runnerup Johns Hopkins, Washington & Lee and Virginia. The Dixie team also lists two members each from Navy, Denison and Washington College. The remainder of the squad shows one player from each of Towson State, Kenyon, University of Baltimore, Roanoke, Lebanon Valley, Morgan State, Ohio State and North Carolina.

North Coach Richie Moran of Cornell and his assistants, Sidney Jamieson of Bucknell and Paul Dogherty of Adelphia, will counter with a squad led by a trio of players each from Cornell and Hobart. The Yankee team also lists a pair of squad members from Rutgers, Cortland State, Army, Dartmouth, Brown and R.P.I. and one apiece from Hofstra, Pennsylvania, Williams, Harvard, Princeton, Ithaca, Springfield and Massachusetts. Princeton's representative is midfielder Steve Peaslee.

The event had its inception in 1940 when the North was the victor in Baltimore Stadium by a 6-5 score. With the exception of the war years of 1944 and 1945, the game has been played regularly at rotating sites.

The South holds a lead of 17 victories to 12 in the series. The only tie occured in 1946 at Baltimore's Homewood Field when the squads battled to a 14-14 deadlock.

SPRING SPORTS END

At Princeton High School. The varsity baseball, track and tennis teams ended their season's activities last week at Princeton High School.

The PHS baseball team finished with a whimper, losing its final game, 6-1, to Hunterdon Central. In their last four games, the little Tigers, who ended with a 4-13 record under new coach Don Rankenbush, scored two runs.

In the first official Mercer County League standings, PHS placed sixth among seven teams with a 4-8 mark and eight points. Steinert (8-3-1) won the league crown, while Trenton (3-9) finished last. Two of Princeton's four league wins were at the expense of Trenton.

Princeton's next to last game was a memorable one for senior Greg Kline — in a painful way. The regular PHS centerfielder, King was making his first start on the mound against visiting Franklin Township. He was two outs away from a no-hitter when he gave up a triple — the visitors' only hit — and lost the game, 2-1.

Starters graduating include Kline, shortstop Mike Carluccio, third baseman Wray Blattner and left fielder Jeff Galle. Galle, together with pitcher Bob Zinsmeister were named to the second team, All-Mercer County team.

Fail to Qualify in Track. Four members of the Princeton High School track team — Bill Alexander, Lou Drury, Pete Nichols and Mark McLean — participated in the state track finals Saturday at Rutgers Stadium but all failed to place among the top five qualifiers in each event.

In dual meet competition this year, coach Larry Ivan's team finished with a 4-6 record. Drury and Alexander were the best in the County in the discus and shot, respectively, while Nichols set a new PHS mark in the two mile.

County Title Won. By defeating Ewing, 5-0, last week, the Little Tiger tennis team ended with a 10-0 record in Mercer County League play to capture the first official League tennis crown.

Singles players Dick Broad, Nick Van deWalle and David Loy won, as did the doubles teams of Randy Thomas - Rob McDougald and Dan Schulman - Dan Aronovic. The Little Tigers, 15-3 overall, also repeated as Central Jersey Group 3 champions but failed to defend their Group 3 state crown.

Van Breda Kolff to Stay

Willem H. ("Butch") van Breda Kolff has been named full-time assistant to Princeton basketball coach Peter J. Carril.

Appointed special assistant in January of this year, van Breda Kolff will continue to aid Carril and freshman coach Bob Dukiet in coaching, scouting and general duties. Princeton's head coach from 1963 through 1967, van Breda Kolff has been credited by Carril with being instrumental in the development of several of the younger players on this year's squad.

In his five seasons here, van Breda Kolff's teams won 103 games while losing 31, and captured four Ivy League titles. After leaving Princeton, van Breda Kolff coached three NBA teams — the Los Angeles Lakers, Detroit Pistons and Phoenix Suns.

PDS Sports Teoms End Best Season Ever

Princeton Day School varsity teams have completed their best season ever, achieving a record of 70-39-2 for a percentage of 63 per cent.

Soccer led the way for the second year in a row with a 12-1-1 mark, as coach Peter Butterheim led his charges to the finals of the state tourney and was named coach of the year in the process. Actually, this was a small comedown for the Panthers, who captured the state crown a year ago.

Lacrosse also had an impressive season, 11-3, its best record ever by a good margin, and also reached the finals of the state tourney before losing to Summit La crosse Club. Basketball continued its winning ways, recording a 15-6 season, also its best ever, and reaching the semi-finals in the state tourney.

Other highlights included the second winning season for football, (4-3) and the tennis team, which finished 10-2 and won the Penn-Jersey League. Only two teams had losing records, cross-country and baseball.

The future of most teams appears pretty rosy, as underclassmen dominated most squads. In addition the greater number of participant athletics this year made it possible to create freshman teams in five sports, which will be a strong aid to building better varsity teams.

LEAGUE HAT TRICK

For Hun School Nine. By defeating Germantown Friends, 9-0, Saturday in Newtown, Pa., the Hun School baseball team won its third Penn-Jersey League championship in a row.

Three days earlier, Hun lost the Prep School state championship when it was edged by Lawrenceville School, 5-4, at the Peddie School diamond. Hun had the bases loaded with one out in the final inning but couldn't bring the runs across.

"It was the one time in the year when we didn't come through with the clutch hit," commented Bill McQuade, the Hun coach.

Hun ended with a fine 14-3 record. It was the defending state prep school champion as well as the Penn-Jersey title holder.

Creamer 10-1. Against Germantown, Hun turned to the combination that had worked so well for it all season: the pitching of Paul Creamer and some solid team slugging. Creamer did his part by limiting the Quakers to three hits, striking out eight and walking one. It was his tenth victory against one loss.

His teammates raked Germantown, in turn, for 15 hits including a single by Greg Rafalski in the fourth inning with the bases loaded. Hun pushed across five runs in the inning to break a scoreless tie. Tony Trani stole three bases in the game for Hun.

Against Lawrenceville (15-3) Hun battled back from a 5-1 deficit by scoring three runs in the last inning. It needed only one more to tie and had the bases loaded with one out. "I thought we had it then," said McQuade, "but we just couldn't get that last run across. Our luck ran out for the first time this year."

Hun tried a suicide squeeze but the ball rolled foul. The batter later struck out and the next hitter popped out to end it. Dave Clarke, who pitched the first five innings, took the loss. Biff Hollowell's double was one of six Hun hits off winning pitcher Scott Coolidge (7-1).

Three Graduate. McQuade loses three starters through graduation: Rafalski, Creamer and third baseman Scott Johnson. Rafalski was the slugging leader on the team and was batting .440 going into the final game. "And it won't be easy to find someone who can pick up the 10 wins Creamer got for us," admitted McQuade. "But if I can find a catcher and another pitcher, I'll be a little more optimistic about next year."

In a sense this was a more satisfying year for McQuade than his first season in 1972, when Hun won everything. Last year Hun had virtually the entire team back that had won the League Championship the year before. Everyone expected the Red and Black to sweep through the opposition.

But this season, McQuade had to replace his entire infield, and fill in one outfield gap. "It was a different team," said McQuade.

"I said from the beginning it would all depend on how quickly the players matured. (Hun had a number of sophomores on the squad.) But they came to life quickly and wanted to play ball. Overall, they played really superb ball."

McQuade admitted that the 14-3 record was "surprising" to him and "a little more satisfying." In his two years, the popular McQuade has compiled a 27-6 record.

He has little time to rest on his accomplishments on the diamond, however. He is player-manager of Sannino's in the Adult Softball League, which began play this week. "It keeps me busy during the summer," he said.

Sannino's is a new team in the league comprised of players from the former Nassau-Conover team, Conte's Bar and Teague and Hinds. Pointing out that many of the players had played on championship teams in the league before, McQuade added that he felt Sannino's would be in contention for the championship this year.

Applications are available at the Recreation Office in Township Hall or from Hawley C. Waterman, 140 Snowden Lane, 924-0923, the League Director. The registration fee of $4 includes a jersey.

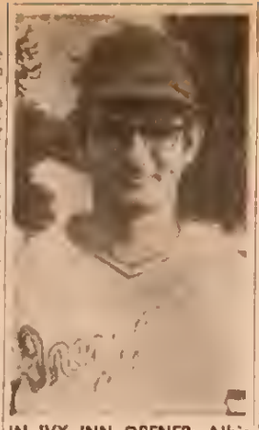
Games will be held at Marquand Park every Wednesday evening at 5:30, from June 13 through July 25. Players must furnish their own equipment.

Games will consist of four ten-minute quarters and will be controlled by the officials to eliminate all rough contact. Additional information may be obtained from Waterman.

SEASON UNDER WAY

In Adult Softball League. The Princeon Adult Softball League opened this week at Community Park with the same number of teams as last year — nine — but with some new names.

Teams and their managers are: Andy's Tavern, Jack Fasanella; Center Sports, Jack Petrone Jr.; Conte's-Staats, Rob Staats; Ivy Inn& Dick McCluskey; Hinds, Robert Bartlett; PIASC (Princeton Italian-American Sportsmen Club), Jim Pirone; PCR (Princeton Chemical Research), Bruce Campbell; Sannino's, Bill McQuade; and Sports 'n Things, Mike Koplinor.



IN IVY INN OPENER: Albie Toto plays third base for Ivy Inn, expected to be one of the contenders in the Adult Softball League which opened its season this week.

Four games will be played Monday and Wednesday evenings at the four fields at Community Park through August 1. There will be a best-of-three playoffs among the four top teams at the end of the regular season; survivors will meet in a five-game series for the league championship.

This Wednesday evening the following contests were scheduled: Sports 'n Things vs. Andy's; Hinds vs. Conte's-Staats; Sannino's vs. Center Sports and PIASC vs. Ivy Inn. On Monday, Conte's vs. Sports 'n Things; PCR vs. Sannino's, Andy's vs. PIASC and Ivy Inn vs. Hinds. Games start at 6:15.

LUCAR OFF AND RUNNING

Toward Another Championship. Defending champion Lucar Hardware scored a 9-4 victory over the Lions Club team in the opening game of the West Windsor Babe Ruth Baseball League last Friday night on the Dutch Neck School field.

Mark Diezemann pitched Lucar to the win, limiting the Lions to three hits, all singles. Ted Servis, the starting pitcher for the Lions, got two of them and Scott McGonigle the other.

Bill Schroeder led the Lucar hitting attack with a double, two singles and a sacrifice fly that scored a run. Timely singles that drove in other Lucar runs were added by Scott Hansen, Tim Fahey, Richard Levine and Don Hutchinson.

After the Lions opened the scoring with a run in the first, Lucar scored in four successive innings to go into the seventh and final inning with a 9-1 lead. The Lions then rallied for three runs before Lucar could get the final out.

Pete Schmeder is manager of Lucar, while Tim Dalton manages the Lions. The other two teams in the league, Will's Shell and Harbourt Air Freight, were to start their playing schedules this week.

'Y' SERIES WON

By Undefeated Kiwanis Orioles. After compiling a 4-0 record in exhibition games and a 9-0-1 record in regular season play, the Kiwanis Orioles completed an undefeated season by winning the YMCA World Series, sweeping the Rotary Club Dodgers in two games.

The Orioles socked 13 hits, including a home run by Keith Phox and doubles by Fain Hackney and Mark Lynch, as they edged the Dodgers, 13-12, in the first game. David Hamel had three hits and Jeff Johnson two.

The Dodgers, paced by Alex Versfeld's homer, Matt Woodlen's triple, and Doug Ferguson's double, closed the gap by scoring five runs in the bottom of the seventh. But Phox came in to relieve winning pitcher Hackney and record the final out for the Orioles.

In the second game, the Orioles came from behind with a nine-run rally in the home sixth, winning 12-10. Big hits in the Oriole sixth came from Mike McCabe, Lynch and Hackney, who doubled, and Hamel and Johnson, who tripled. Co-captain Phox smacked a two-run homer for the winning margin, and also pitched the entire game, striking out 17 while walking 11.

Those walks plus seven Oriole errors allowed the Dodgers to keep the game close, despite picking up only four hits off Phox. Ferguson led the Dodger batters with two hits.

METCALF SUNFISH WINS

Doubles Race Sunday. Switching from his Laser to a Sunfish because not enough Lasers showed up for racing on Sunday, Ed Metcalf captured first place in the Carnegie Sailing Club's weekly spring series races. John Hopfield finished second and Dan Mazzarella third.

The Club will hold a special "doubles" race, Sunday followed by a lakeside picnic for all sailors and their families. In the doubles races, all boats must carry a crew, and the skipper must be someone other than the ordinary skipper. This is an opportunity for children, spouses and novice sailors to learn what racing is all about. Special prizes will be awarded to first and second place finishers in both classes. Those interested should turn out at 2 Sunday afternoon.

3RD RECORD IN 3 WEEKS

For Gracie McEwen. Too bad the season has come to an end for the Princeton High School girls track team. There's no telling how long PHS junior Gracie McEwen would have continued to set school records in the javelin.

Last week, in the final dual meet of the season against visiting Brick Township, Gracie, for the third week in a row, established a new PHS mark in the javelin of 123-8. "Every time she throws, she sets a record," said PHS coach Lamont Fletcher.

The Little Tigers won the meet with Brick, 64-48, to finish with a 5-4 record. This is the fourth season the team has been coached by Fletcher, a former standout hurdler for the Little Tigers in the early '60s, and he has yet to wind up with a losing record. "But this is the closest to it yet," he said.

Sophomore Kathy Woodbridge ran the 440 in record time in the final meet with a clocking of 61.4. It bettered the previous school mark set by Diane Westover by half a second. The latter won the 880 against Brick Township in 2:26.5, while freshman Jane Frazure captured the mile in 5:51. "That's darn good for a freshman," commented Fletcher.

Karen Herzog was the lone double winner for PHS, taking both the long jump and hurdles.

Graduation, New School Take Toll. Fletcher will lose five performers through graduation, a veterans of several years under his tutelage, and about a half dozen to the new West Windsor

News Of The CHURCHES

BAPTISTS SET PROGRAM

To Honor Rev. Mr. Smith. The First Baptist Church has planned a week-long program of events to celebrate the 10th year of service of the pastor, the Rev. Edward Smith.

On Sunday, June 10, an opening period of worship by the congregation will begin at 11 a.m., led by the associate ministers who have served with Rev. Smith over the past 10 years.

The Morning Star Church of God in Christ, with the Rev. Elder C. Gaudry, pastor, will lead a special service Tuesday at 8 p.m.

On Wednesday at 8 p.m., a service will be conducted by the Rev. Floyd Rhodes of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Ch., and the Rev. L. Gibson of Mt. Pisgah AME.

The Rev. John Gaines, pastor of the El Bethel Baptist Church in Trenton, will officiate at services Thursday at 8 p.m.

Virginia Congregation to Visit. A community night is planned for Friday, also beginning at 8 p.m.

On Sunday, June 17, the 11 a.m. service at First Baptist will be led by the Rev. Richard Green, of the Shiloh Baptist Church of Fredericksburg, Virginia. Rev. Smith resigned from this church 10 years ago to come to Princeton, and members of the congregation and choirs from Shiloh will travel north to honor him at this time.

A testimonial and dinner will be held June 17 at 6 p.m. at the Princeton Country Club. The master of ceremonies will be Dr. J. Vance McIver, former state assemblyman and pastor of the Union Baptist Church, East Orange.

Keynote speaker will be the Honorable S. Howard Woodson, assemblyman and pastor of the Shiloh Baptist Church of Trenton.

The public is invited to the services and the banquet. Tickets for the banquet may be purchased from Mrs. Lula Venable, 924-7369, or through the church office, 924-0877.

KINGSTON SERVICE SET

To Mark 250th Anniversary. As part of its 250th anniversary celebration, the Kingston Presbyterian Church will honor its four oldest members Sunday and also some of its youngest — including eight year-old Benjamin L. Gulick whose ancestors worshipping at the church date back to the 18th century.

The son of Mrs. Bertrand L. Gulick Jr. of Kingston Road and the late Mr. Gulick, Benjamin is a descendant of Ferdinand Gulick, who in 1793 was installed as a ruling elder in the church.

The church also will honor its senior members, each 90 or older: Mrs. Minnie Freeman and Mrs. Flora Tichenor, both of Kingston; Mrs. Elizabeth Kenny and George V. D. Perrine, both of Monmouth Junction.

The newest members are Thomas Balomo, Bruce Buckingham, Daniel Buckingham, Gail Gassert, Ray Gibson, James Hopkins, all of Kendall Park; Debra Benninghoff, No. Brunswick; Richard Gons, Stephen Gons, Steven Voorhees, and Kevin Wright, all of Princeton; Sharl Mechem, Kingston; Alex Robinson, Skillman; and Gary Stryker, Manmouth Junction.

The Rev. Henry Heaps of Donellen, formerly a pastor at Kingston Presbyterian, will preach.

BULLETIN NOTES

Public seminars on current everyday problems are being sponsored by the Six Mile Run Reformed Church. The first will be Thursday, June 7, at 8 p.m. in the church's fellowship hall, Route 27 in Franklin Park. The topic: "No Fault Insurance." The speaker will be Samuel Nelson, branch manager of the General Adjustment Bureau in Trenton.

Summer hours have been set by the First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck, No. 11 a.m. service will be held until fall. The church school and family service will be held at 9:30 a.m.

Morning Star Church of God in Christ, 43 1/2 Birch Avenue, will hold a fried chicken and barbecued ribs dinner Saturday, June 9, from noon until 6 p.m. Call 924-5478 for delivery.

Township Flag Furled Temporarily

Gold coins on a field of red ink, with a lance piercing a Borough parking meter.

That's the emblem presented solemnly to Township Mayor Jay Bleiman Monday night by E. Hunter Ross, the "Betsy" who designed a proposed Township flag and seal.

The presentation, made with tongue jovially tucked in cheek, came after Township Committee had decided to furl the proposed new flag, at least temporarily. The vote to wait a bit and think it over, was 4-0. Abbot Low Moffat abstained. Mr. Ross is his friend.

It's that princely crown at the bottom of Mr. Ross' design that seems to cause the uneasiness. Mr. Ross said Monday night, "Well, I don't much like the crown myself, but after all we are 'Princeton' and not 'Executive vice-president ville'.

"Rather pretentious," commented Robert Hansman, 39 Linden Lane. He's the one who wrote TOWN TOPICS last week suggesting a floral emblem, possibly a dogwood blossom.

"Is this the image of Princeton we wish to project?" asked Committeeman William Sutphin. "Nothing on this flag reflects our world renown as a repository of knowledge and understanding."

Mrs. Edwin Hutter, in the audience, said a crown had unfortunate connotations in an international community like Princeton.

A spirited jousting about heraldry occurred between Mr. Ross and Mr. Hansman and Mr. Ross observed at one point that both Lords Calvert and Baltimore are on the Maryland seal," . . . but that doesn't mean Marylands residents have to buy Lord Calvert whisky."

There was also a comment or two about timing. Committee had just heard a lengthy presentation on consolidation with the Borough. And now, to adopt a Township flag?

High School. Seniors departing are Westover and Karen Winn, co-captains of the team, Francie Walstad, Herzog, and Debbie Brooks, who performed in the shot and discus events.

Fletcher acknowledged that the extra loss to West Windsor means that he will have a smaller team next year and one whose "potential will not be as great." He emphasized, however, that he still will be able to field a full team and expects to fill in the gaps with students moving up from the second string and from new prospects coming up from the Middle School.

IVY, CONTE-STAATS WIN

In Adult Softball League. A close game between Ivy Inn and Sannino's and a lopsided victory by Conte-Staats highlighted the first round of play Monday in the Princeton Adult Softball League.

Dave Britton bested Tom Brophy of Sannino's as Ivy Inn collected 13 hits in its 10-8 victory. Britton gave up eight hits in a game that was considered a possible preview in the battle for league honors.

Conte-Staats overwhelmed PCR, 29-0. The victors' big innings were the first (five runs), the third (seven more) and the seventh (a 13-hit, 13-run massacre).

PCR managed only three hits the entire game. Through the first five innings, not a single runner reached first — a situation rare indeed in slow pitch softball.

In other contests, Center Sports defeated Italian-American Sportsmen Club behind the pitching of John Giunacaci, and Hinds edged Andy's Tavern, 8-7.

TENNIS TITLE WON

By PHS Girls Team. The Princeton High School girls tennis team has won the public school Mercer County Tennis League Championship.

Overall, coach Ralph Heyman's Little Tigers finished with an 11-2 record. In league play they were perfect in home and home matches with Trenton, Hopewell Valley, Lawrence and Ewing — losing only two individual matches in the entire series.

The three senior captains on the squad were Karen Gordon, Martha Batchelor and Robin Steward.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part of all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 15c

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. John E. Finch of Lake Drive, the G.G.'s (Goreleigh Group), and all others who participated in the garden party at the Finch residence on April 28.

The purpose of the event was to stimulate financial support for my project, a 345 sq. ft. mural, "The World of the Migrant Worker." The mural has been designed for Somerset, N.J.

This project is sponsored by Heritage Foundation. Applications for grants are under consideration by State and National Endowment of the Arts.

Assisting me on the mural will be Emily Sturkie, artist and head of the Rutgers Prep School Art Department, and Kenneth Rowlins, artist and head of the art program at S.C.A.P., a Child Day Center.

SEWER HEARING SET

For June 14. The waters may be rolling next Thursday night, June 14, when the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority holds a public hearing at 8 in Borough Hall on the environmental assessment report submitted by engineers Metcalf and Eddy.

On Monday night, Township Committee unanimously, but not entirely wholeheartedly, passed the resolution of intent to join the Authority as a customer, provided the environmental study meets with the approval of all six member municipalities.

Action was necessary, Mayor Jay Bleiman explained to opponents in the audience, because the Authority wants to file for Federal funds by July 1. After that time, stricter standards go into effect, although the mayor added that he didn't think Stony Brook could escape stricter standards.

"Bulk in excess of content," was the scornful description used by William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue, to describe the impact study.

Procedure Outlined. Rosemary D'Arlen, chairman of the Township's Environmental Commission, pointed out that New Jersey has the power to prepare its own environmental impact statement if this one is unsatisfactory. She expressed doubts about the wisdom of passing the resolution of intent to join, but gave her agreement after municipal attorney Gordon Griffin said the resolution's wording gave the Township a legal "out".

Mrs. Edwin Hutter, for the Friends of the Environment, charged that the Metcalf and Eddy report disregards the recommendations of its own consultants, and asked Committee to wait for the hearing before acting.

In the report, Environmental Analysts, a firm of Long Island scientists, label as "critical" the Institute for Advanced Study forest lands thru which the sewer pipeline would pass. The forest is up to 400 years old, they say, and is one of the last stands of mature, undisturbed forest in the area.

"Irretrievable loss of trees in this forest must be viewed as a critical impact," is their verdict.

Metcalf and Eddy, in their summary, refer to "adverse effects which can't be avoided," and assure that restoration after construction will mitigate these effects.

Washington Rode Here. Although Metcalf and Eddy state that the sewer line "does not cross any sites of historical significance," Environmental Analysts say that unquestionably General Washington passed under many of the beeches and maples in the Institute forest.

The consultants from Long Island suggest an alternate route which would lose fewer and less valuable trees.

An aquatic survey by the same firm expresses concern about the water quality impact on the Millstone. They report that not enough data were available, either to them or to Metcalf and Eddy, on the quality of the effluent that would result from various alternative plans.

Consultants Geraghty and Miller, examining the water-supply problem, warn of severe water shortages by the year 2,000 in the Hopewell area, and suggest high - level treatment of sewage in Princeton, discharge into the Delaware and Raritan canal, and withdrawal for use in Hopewell Township and Pennington. Metcalf and Eddy do recommend taking water from the canal or the Delaware River, but nowhere do they mention bringing it back for re-use.

Critics of the environmental report suggest that the engineers of Metcalf and Eddy may feel locked into the sewer design they have already completed.

ETS TO TEST INFANTS

In Social Development Study. Infants six to 24 months of age are invited to participate in a study concerned with social development and self recognition. The study is sponsored by the Infant Laboratory of Educational Testing Service.

Dr. Michael Lewis, director of the laboratory, said the study would involve two half-hour visits to ETS by the infants and their mothers. Psychologists at the lab will observe the infant's reaction to mirrors and to videotapes of the child and other babies.

All participants will be compensated, and babysitting will be provided by ETS, if necessary. Mothers who would like to have their infants participate in the study are urged to telephone the Infan. Lab 921 9000, ext. 2559.

You get just about the same headroom and legroom in an Audi 100 LS as you do in a Rolls-Royce Silver Shadow.

The Audi 100LS isn't a very big car. On the outside.

But don't let that fool you about the size of the car on the inside.

You'll find there's more headroom than you'd ever expect. Enough for, say, a person 6'6". And if he's got unusually long legs (which a person of his size usually has) he won't have to sit clutching his knees. Because there's more legroom than you'd ever expect.

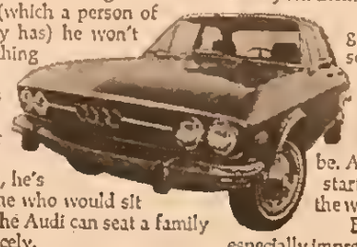
Mind you, he's not the only one who would sit comfortably. The Audi can seat a family of five rather nicely.

Now the Rolls-Royce isn't the only great car the Audi has a lot in common with.

The Audi has rack-and-pinion steering like the racing Ferrari. And front-wheel drive like the Cadillac Eldorado.

The Audi has the same amount of trunk space as the Lincoln Continental Mark IV. And independent front suspension like the Aston Martin.

Our interior looks so much like that of the Mercedes-Benz 280SE, you can hardly tell them apart.



And as for service, you'll get the same kind of expert service a Volkswagen gets. Because a Porsche Audi dealer is part of the VW organization.

Impressed? You should be. After all, the Audi bears a startling similarity to some of the world's finest automobiles.

But what makes the Audi especially impressive is its price tag.

It's a lot less than you'd expect to pay for that many great cars.

The Audi®
It's a lot of cars for the money.

A HOUSE FULL OF SURPRISES

The minute you step into the welcoming entrance hall of this rambling house its unique charm begins to surprise and captivate you. On the right is one of the prettiest living rooms we've seen — large, light and lovely with its cathedral ceiling, open beams, rough plaster walls, quarry tile floor, bookshelves, fireplace, view of and door to the flagstone terrace, post and rail fenced lawn, natural planting and big woods at the back. Straight ahead, the dining room (which also opens on the terrace,) enjoys the same delightful outlook, as does the adjoining, dropdown, brick-floored library. From there winding, brass-railed stairs lead up to a master bedroom, dressing room and bath, spacious and handsome enough to live and entertain in! A wrough iron fence lining the glass wall (with a view that makes you feel as if you were in a tree house) is typical of the imaginative decorative surprises everywhere.

A first floor guest room and bath are comfortably located away from other living areas, while two more cozy bedrooms, a bath and laundry area tucked away at the back. Last but definitely not least surprising is the kitchen. The working area is completely modern and efficient, but the large bright, skylighted sitting area is the piece de resistance. Stunning teak cabinets, long window seat, and wide plant shelf are capped by an enchanting little Delft tile bordered fireplace. There is more, but we invite you to come and be surprised for yourself. Offered at $150,000

"Pretty as a picture" are words that fit this house to a "T". Sturdy trees shade the property, and the front porch adds much to evening relaxation. The vestibule receives light through the windows in the front door. Double windows and lots of unbroken wall space make for easy placement of furniture in the living room. There is a formal dining room with built in china. The kitchen has a work area arranged at one end with a sink and dishwasher thoughtfully placed in front of a window. There is enough space in the dinette for little ones to play under their mother's watchful eye. Three bedrooms are provided with plenty of rooms and two of them have cross ventilation. The stairs to the basement are just inside the side door and lead to a full basement. There is a 2 car garage. $45,900

A NEW DIMENSION. This colonial design has become so popular during the past few years it can almost be considered standard. It is a center hall with a traditional roof line and this makes possible some desirable change within. The kitchen is designed for maximum efficiency and has two windows over the sink. The family room has a raised hearth fireplace, and casement windows. There are four bedrooms, central air, full basement, 2 car garage. $66,500

LICENSED REAL ESTATE BROKER

This older Princeton townhouse on John St. is convenient to shopping and town and to the Community Park facilities. Downstairs, there's a living room, dining room and kitchenette while upstairs are 3 comfortable bedrooms and a full bath. Sit out on the cute front porch and watch the world go by. $29,500

This charming older two story colonial has a big country kitchen with the atmosphere of rustic beams and the easy living of early American. The living room, dining room, den and possibility of a downstairs power room spell modern colonial conveniences. Upstairs, are four truly colonial bedrooms and a modern bath. In the attic are wide plank loose floorboards for a worthwhile restoration. Come and see. $38,900

Our newest listing is an historic 1920 colonial that has wide plank pine flooring throughout. The formal living room, dining room and spacious solarium offer plenty of space for a young family or just the right setting for the "green thumb" of an appreciative horticulturist. The convenient modern eat-in kitchen has vinyl brick tile to keep with the authentic charm; completing the downstairs is a nice powder room and a back stairway for some inquiring youngster. Upstairs are 3 comfortable colonial bedrooms and a full bath. Completely treed and shrubbed, including a pair of 150 year old maple trees in fine condition that were planted for the bride and groom when they originally built the house. $53,500

This Princeton town house is within walking distance of the University. You can walk to schools, shopping and virtually everything. The living room is early American; the kitchen is modern and the family room is nice and light with a picture window overlooking the patio and garden; upstairs are 4 delightful bedrooms and 2 full baths; downstairs is a 5th bedroom or teenagers hideaway with fireplace and half bath. $60,500

Once in a while you find a builder with a true sense of the rustic. Natural cedar siding, rustic beams, and tasteful thick mouldings make this traditional Cape Cod a unique custom built home. A nice formal living room, extra large dining room, family room with fireplace, queen size kitchen, and master suite are arranged in an interesting floor plan, while upstairs are three generous bedrooms and a possible fourth if need be. A full dry basement, two car garage, and patio, all on a delightfully wooded 1¾ acre lot. $73,500

One of the most beautiful recently built homes in Princeton has finally come on the market. She has a fireplace in the living room, an elegant dining room, a spacious family room, five comfortable bedrooms upstairs, and best of all, she's pretty. $135,000

Formal gardens overlooking a gorgeous free form pool are the setting for a magnificent brick colonial in the Princeton Western section. From the foyer with its winding staircase opposite the library to the sunken living room with a view from the terrace, formal elegance is the obvious keynote. Upstairs are 5 comfortably large bedrooms and 4 full baths. Complete with a servant's wing and surrounded by acres of Princeton's best land. Be sure to call for an appointment. $325,000

How do you judge the fair market value of a piece of property? It is the price an owner will take from a buyer. Banks, when appraising the property, will accept this value as the fair value of the house. The best people to give your house a fair market value are your real estate agents. They are able to arrange a price which will be agreeable to all parties involved in the transaction.

The agents at WALTER B. HOWE INC., 1 Palmer Sq. can be relied upon. Homes . . . all sizes, shapes and prices. Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5. Sun. 1-5. Call Princeton 924-0095 or Pennington 737-3301 or W. Windsor 799-1100.

COUNT YOUR CHILDREN

If you find that the number has dwindled on the home front due to college, career or marriage it's time you moved to smaller quarters. This is a lot of house for a shrinking family group. It lends itself to entertaining. Flagstone entry, living room (oversize), separate dining room for formal or informal dining, modern kitchen with breakfast area, a great den, three bedrooms and two full bathrooms that have been done just right! For warm weather comfort — newly installed central air conditioning. A charming terrace. All this in Princeton Township at $68,000

ISN'T THIS THE DAY

That you buy a new house? This one is located in a fine residential area in Princeton Township. It's a traditionally styled Colonial on an extremely attractive and well tended lot. The house offers an entry hall, living room with a fireplace, good dining room, large eat-in kitchen, powder room and laundry room on the main level. Upstairs is the master bedroom and bath plus three more bedrooms and a hall bath. The basement is finished and is ideal for informal entertaining. Spend a cool summer at home in this fine house with all the amenities you could wish for plus central air conditioning. $75,500
